CHAPTER VII.

The War for Independence (Continued)—The Meeting of the Associated Battalions at Lancaster—Roll of Capt. Klotz's Company of the Flying Camp—Non-Associators in 1777, for Lebanon, Heidelberg, and Bethel Townships.

THE formation of the Flying Camp, as directed by Congress, from such of the associated battalions as volunteered for the purpose, required full organization, and a meeting was called at Lancaster, to which the militia of the State were directed to send representatives. This meeting, consisting of the delegates from the officers and privates of the fifty-three battalions of associators, convened on the 4th of July, 1776, for the purpose of choosing two brigadier-generals. The minutes of this convention have never been published in full, and we present, therefore, the record, for which we are indebted to the Clymer papers:

At a meeting of the Officers and Privates of 53 Battalions of the Associators of the Colony of Pennsylvania, at Lancaster, on the 4th day of July, 1776, on due Notice to choose two Brigadier-Generals to command the Battalions and Forces in the said Colony,—Col. Geo. Ross, President; Lieut.-Col. Daniel Clymer, secretary.

The Protest of the Board of Officers of the Five Battalions of the City & Liberties of Philad^a to the Assembly was read:

The Circular Letter signed by the Chairman, Col. Roberdeau, was read.

The Circular Letter from the Committee of Privates of the City & Liberties of Philada signed by the Chairman, Mr. Sam^l Simpson, was read.

The Protest of the Privates of the City & Liberties of Philada to the Assembly signed by Mr. Samuel Simpson was read.

the practice was in accordance with them, or that there was any authority, until a later day, for supposing those townships extended beyond the First Mountain, other than long usage. When the township of Paxtang was erected, in 1729, it extended "from Swatara Creek to Kohtohtoning Hill, above Peter Allen's." Where Peter Allen's was, or whether the First Mountain of the range was the only one known by the name of "Kohtohtoning," it is now impossible to know. The probability is that start from below and running up the river, if it had been intended to pass the First Mountain and adopt the Second, it would have been so stated; this, however, is but conjecture. The next matter of record bearing on the question occurs when Hanover township was erected in 1737. Beaver Creek, from its mouth to the mountain, was made the dividing line between Hanover and Peshtank. Beaver Creek had its source at the southern base of the First Mountain, and the division line was extended no farther. It should have been stated before, when referring to the boundaries of Peshtank, that when the "Kohtohtoning Hill" was reached, the line ran eastward by the south side of said hill to the meridian of the mouth of Quitopahilla Creek. Again, in the year 1767, the court ordered the division line between Upper and Lower Paxtang townships to be made from "the mouth of Fishing Creek; thence along the top of Kittatinia Mountain, next to Lower Paxtang, to Beaver Creek." Hanover township was divided into east and west in the year 1785; the dividing line was a run, having its source on the south side of the First Mountain. In this case, like that of the division of Peshtank and Hanover, the record provides no line extending beyond the First Mountain. The practice of treating the territory between the First and Second Mountains as within the Hanovers probably originated soon after the organization of Dauphin County, in the year 1785. The question whether East Hanover township extended beyond the First Mountain in the year 1796 occurred in the trial of the case of Gloninger vs. Goddard, in the Common Pleas of Lebanon County, and which is reported in 5th Watts, 221. The understanding and practice before mentioned was fully proved on that trial; in the Supreme Court, however, although it was not thought necessary to the question, the judge who delivered the opinion of the court clearly intimated that the records showed the First Mountain to be the true boundary. This question and these matters relating to it are here merely referred to as a part of the history of township boundaries, and not to be understood as suggesting any existing difficulty; incidentally the Second Mountain has become the record line of West Hanover, as may be seen on reference to the records establishing the township of Rush in 1820, and the division of West Hanover township in 1842, both in Dauphin County.

Upon the formation of the county, in 1813, East Hanover was included within the limits of Lebanon, and made East Hanover township, a part, however, being taken off at that time to form Swatara, and since further reduced by the formation of the townships of Union and Cold Spring. As at present, the township is bounded on the north by Cold Spring township, on the east by Union, on the south by North Annville and Londonderry, and on the west by Dauphin County. In the upper part of the township are the Blue Mountains, but south of these the country is level or gently undulating. The soil is chiefly slate and gravel, though there is some limestone land. Much of it is of excellent quality, and the township is one of the finest grain-growing districts of the county. The Swatara is the principal stream, and rises in Schuylkill County, on the south side of the Broad Mountain, and stealing its way through the Sharp and Second Mountains, enters the county on the northeast angle, through which, in its sinuous course, it receives the Quitopahilla, and other smaller tributaries; thence flows southwest through Dauphin County, and empties into the Susquehanna River below Middletown.

The original settlers were Scotch-Irish Presbyterians, concerning whom we have previously referred at length. They were in truth an enterprising and daring race. There was, however, a fair sprinkling of the German element, as will be seen by the following

As to the township proper the history of Annville contains little of moment, and the few facts relating to early churches and to schools is given in the townships into which it was divided,—North Annville and South Annville.

NORTH ANNVILLE TOWNSHIP.

THIS township is bounded on the north by East Hanover, on the east by Swatara and North Lebanon, on the south by South Annville and Londonderry, and on the west by East Hanover and Londonderry. At the April session of the court, 1845, divers inhabitants of Annville township petitioned for a division of said township, representing it to be inconveniently large for township purposes, and that it contained about six hundred voters. The petitioners asked for the erection of North Annville township out of Annville, and requested the appointment of commissioners. April 11, 1845, the court appointed Abraham Rex, John Uhler, and Jacob Weidle as such commissioners. July 30, 1845, they reported to the court that they had divided the township as follows:

"Beginning at Killinger's Run, being the dividing-line between Londonderry and Annville townships, where the Berks and Dauphin Turnpike road crosses it, and observing the following courses and distances: North seventy-eight degrees east, five hundred and thirty-six perches, north eighty and a half degrees east three hundred and forty perches, north seventy-six and a half degrees east two hundred and thirty-four perches, and north seventy-nine degrees east, ninety-two perches to the line dividing Lebanon from Annville township, on the land of Jacob Kreider." The commissioners further suggested that the part of Annville township north of said division-line should be called North Annville, and the part lying south thereof should be called South Annville. Dec. 15, 1845, the court confirmed the report absolutely.

FRONTIER RANGERS

Revolutionary War Burials of Washington County, Pa.

Introduction

The following men who are listed in this reference aid served during the American Revolution as Frontier Rangers from Washington County, Pennsylvania, being employed against the Indians of the Seneca tribe, and the western tribes of the Ohio country. Washington County, Pennsylvania, became a political entity on March 28, 1781, when it was organized from its parent county of Westmoreland. The men whose names follow are believed to have served as Frontier Rangers from that time until the end of hostilities in late 1782. Washington County men who served prior to 1781, would logically be found listed among the rolls of Westmoreland County Rangers.

All Pennsylvania counties which bordered Indian county maintained companies of Rangers whose sole employment was in the defense of frontier settlements. The companies of Rangers were somewhat smaller than militia companies and usually served under a single officer. Frontier Rangers made frequent forays into wilderness areas along the frontiers and between blockhouses to discover and overtake bands of savages before sufficient numbers could gather to attack white settlements. When a Ranging company fell upon the trail of an Indian party, it was common practice to track the hostiles to their most recent camp, determine the party's strength, and to call in reinforcements to destroy the intruders.

All information recorded in this research aid has been gleaned from the published Pennsylvania Archives from miscellaneous lists of Rangers which remain undated. In only a few instances are the names of the captains of these Washington County Ranging companies known. Little else has remained in the way of rosters of these elite soldiers. There are some instances of duplication of names in the rosters of militia and Rangers due to the fact that some of the Washington County men served in both military organizations. Most apparently remained loyal to the original organization in which they first served. The researcher will notice that some names of Rangers are duplicated in the following list; this has been permitted to present the reader with as many different Pennsylvania Archive references as are available.

Most military researchers and genealogists familiar with the use of the published Pennsylvania Archives use a numerical code to indicate the precise location of a name in the nine series which contain a total of 138 volumes. For the reader's edification, the following example is given; Example: 5-5-100 indicates the location of series 5, volume 5, page 100. In this manner, references to the authorities may easily be given.

Due to a conflict in the charters of Virginia and of William Penn, the ownership of Southwestern Pennsylvania was in dispute until the matter of boundary lines was settled by the Assemblies of Virginia and Pennsylvania on June 23, 1780, in what is known as "The Baltimore Agreement". Until this agreement was reached, both Virginia and Pennsylvania claimed the area, and both established civil, and later, military governments in order to solidify their respective claims. The Iroquois' claim to the area had been extinguished by the Ft. Stanwix (Rome), N.Y. treaty by which the Indians relinquished their claims to the land south and east of the Allegheny and Ohio Rivers. This opened a veritable floodgate of settlement, Virginians moving north along the old Braddock Road, while Pennsylvanians moved westward along the Forbes Road.

Pennsylvania organized Westmoreland County on February 26, 1773, from its parent county of Bedford, while Virginia established the West Augusta District, a sub-district of Augusta County, Virginia in 1775. Laurel Hill in Pennsylvania separated Bedford and Westmoreland counties in the east, but the western boundaries of the claim were rather vague. Pennsylvania's claim, for instance, included all of present-day Westmoreland and Indiana counties, the southern halves of Armstrong, Allegheny and Beaver counties, and all of Washington, Greene and Fayette. Virginia's claim was somewhat more extensive than that of Pennsylvania.

The outbreak of hostilities on April 19, 1775, at Lexington and Concord complicated the matter of conflicting claims, but also set both state governments upon a course of accomodation and conciliation which resulted in the acceptance of "The Baltimore Agreement," in 1780, which transferred most of the disputed area to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The boundaries were fixed by extending the Mason and Dixon line to a point five degrees west of the Delaware River, and then extending a line from that point directly north to the Ohio River. The Pennsylvania General Assembly moved quickly to solidify its claim upon the new territory by the organization of Washington County on March 28, 1781. This new county, Pennsylvania's twelfth, in 1781 included present-day Washington and Greene counties and Beaver County south of the Ohio River.

With the fever of war running high in Southwestern Pennsylvania, in 1775, both state governments moved quickly to establish military organizations for the protection of the frontier settlements. Virginia troops under the command of Captain John Neville took command of Ft. Pitt (Pittsburgh) in 1775, and maintained control of the area in the name of Virginia until Neville relinquished command on June 1, 1777, to Brigadier Edward Hand of the Continental Army. In the fall of 1775, Colonel William Crawford raised the 7th Virginia Regiment among the Virginia settlers of the area, and surrendering command to Colonel John Gibson, later raised an additional regiment, the 13th Virginia, which he himself commanded. The Pennsylvanians raised Associator and militia companies in Westmoreland County near the town of Hannastown, and by a resolution of Congress passed July 15, 1776, raised the 8th Pennsylvania Regiment of Line for use against the Indians. Perhaps the most important step taken was the "Treaty of Pittsburgh" which was signed at Ft. Pitt in 1775 between whites and the western tribes which guaranteed that all land north of the Ohio River would remain in Indian hands. Thus, the Southwestern Pennsylvania frontier was spared the honors of an Indian war until the treaty was broken in late 1777.

The succeeding commanders of the Western Department of the Continental Army were generally unsuccessful in carrying the war to the Indians, and border depredations continued on an almost daily basis throughout the war. In August, 1779, Colonel Daniel Brodhead, then commander of Ft. Pitt, led a raid up the Allegheny River to present-day Warren County and there destroyed a large Seneca Indian village. This successful expedition greatly lessened the intensity of Indian attacks for the next two years. Colonel Archibald Lockry commanded a party of Washington County men who were making their way down the Ohio River where they were to join General George Rodgers Clark at the junction of the Kanawha and Ohio Rivers. Lockry was captured, however, and he and forty-two of his men were massacred by the savages on August 24, 1781. Warfare on the frontier had reached such a vicious stage that seldom was quarter asked or given.

On February 10, 1782, a Shawnese war party abducted Mrs. Robert Wallace and her three children of Washington County, precipitating the massacre of christian Moravian Indians at Gnadenhutten three weeks later. The village of Warfare on the frontier had reached such a vicious stage that no quarter was asked or given.

On February 10, 1782, a Delaware war party attacked Mrs. Robert Wallace and her three children of Washington County, precipitating the massacre of Christian Moravian Indians at Gnadenhutten three weeks later, the village of Gnadenhutten was the main quarters of christian indians in Ohio, and although they professed their neutrality, whites believed they had aided the western tribes in making war on white settlements in Pennsylvania. Enraged by the abduction of Mrs. Wallace, 160 mounted men of Washington County, under Colonel David Williamson, set off into Indian country to retrieve her and the children. Her lifeless naked body was found impaled on a sapling along the trail to Gnadenhutten. Colonel Williamson's party summarily massacred 96 of the christian Indians with hatchets.

Upon the return of the Williamson party to Washington County, plans were discussed for a much larger foray into the Sandusky River country to deal a similar, final blow to the western tribes. Popular opinion was such that Brigadier William Irvine, commander at Ft. Pitt, granted permission for an all volunteer force of Washington County men, under Colonel William Crawford to undertake the mission. Colonel Crawford was a regular army officer from Westmoreland County, previously having given his allegiance to Virginia before the boundary agreement of 1780. Crawford's men left Washington County on May 23, 1782, arriving on the Sandusky plain on June 4, where a skirmish with the Indians ensued. On the following day, the Indians were reinforced by a British detachment from Ft. Detroit, causing a general retreat of the Crawford party toward the Ohio River. The retreat over a two day period became a rout, and twenty-five men were captured and tortured to death.

All Indians being emboldened by the victory over the Crawford party, Seneca Indians and white Canadian Rangers attacked and burned Hannastown, county seat of Westmoreland County, on July 13, 1782. The settlers had been forewarned and all arrived safely at the fort north of Hannastown before the savages staged their assault. Only one life was lost; that of an unfortunate girl who was struck by a stray musket ball. Throughout the remainder of the Revolution, alarms were caused by Indian forays and incursions in both Washington and Westmoreland counties. Although a great clamor arose in both counties to prosecute a vigorous new campaign against the western tribes, General Irvine was notified by letter on October 30, 1782, from the Secretary of War that no further actions were to be undertaken. Because peace had been proclaimed, Indian depredations generally ceased in Southwestern Pennsylvania by January, 1783. The men whose names follow served as Frontier Rangers in Washington County, Pennsylvania, and were participants in the foregoing events.

family of six children,—James, John, Andrew, Ann, Sarah, and Mary. James settled in Virginia, near the Greene County line, dying there a few years ago, and the rest all removed West. Of the children born to James and Sarah Allison after they emigrated to this county James was the oldest, born March 19, 1775. He lived on a portion of the homestead, and died in the old house. His first wife was Martha McConnaughey, and they had no children. By his second marriage (to Eliza Caldwell) he had two children,—J. K. Polk and Elizabeth Allison. The former lives in Hopewell township, and the latter married William Graves, and lives on her father's place. Adam Allison, another son of James Allison, Sr., lived and died in Taylorstown. He was born Jan. 19, 1798, and filled the office of justice of the peace for several years. Andrew, the next son, was born Oct. 19, 1780. He removed to Newark, Ohio, and was made sheriff of the county in which he resided. Sarah, the last child of James and Sarah Allison, was born Aug. 23, 1788. She became the wife of William Pogue, and lived near the old farm. Her son, John G. Pogue, who lives near West Alexander, in Donegal township, is her only living child. The original Allison property is now owned by Henry Keenan, John Sawhill, and Mrs. William Graves.

Walter Summers was an early settler in this township. He located land on a Virginia certificate issued to him Dec. 21, 1779, the land being situated on Summers' Run, a tributary of Buffalo Creek. It was given the name of "Raccoon's Haunt," and was adjoining property owned by Peter Wolfe, Samuel Rogers, Eleazer Williamson, and Joshua Russell. So extensive were the investments made by Mr. Summers that his lands were said to extend a distance of six miles. His children were five sons and two daughters. The daughter Jannette never married, but the other became Mrs. James Caldwell, and from her are the only lineal descendants of the family. None of the sons ever married, and the name no longer exists in this neighborhood.

Ezekiel Boggs was granted a Virginia certificate for a tract of land called "Jealousy," embracing one hundred and forty-three acres "in the county of Ohio, [Virginia], on the waters of Buffalo Creek, to include his settlement made in the year 1774." This certificate was issued from Redstone Old Fort, Nov. 22, 1779, but the survey was not made until Feb. 2, 1786. The tract "Jealousy" was bounded by the lands of Robert Taylor, Charles McRoberts, John Graham, and William Carson. Francis Boggs, a lineal descendant of Ezekiel Boggs, bought a farm of three hundred and eighteen acres of James Clelland, Oct. 13, 1784, situated one mile northwest of Taylorstown, which was afterwards owned by the Fleck family. Francis Boggs' daughter Lydia became quite famous for her courage in times of danger, as well as for her narrow escapes from death. During the siege at Wheeling she moulded bullets until her arms were blistered, and once when captured by the Indians and carried across the Ohio River she effected her escape by compelling her horse to swim the river. Lydia Boggs and Christiana Clemens were schoolmates in the old school-house that once stood on the farm of Robert Cruthers, and studied together under the teaching of Mr. Hawthorn and Mr. Gibbons. Lydia Boggs married Col. Moses Shepherd for her first husband, and after his death became the wife of his partner, Mr. Koogle. She had no children by either marriage, and died a few years ago at the great age of one hundred and six years.

Basil Lee Williams came from the vicinity of Leesburgh, Va., in 1780, and settled upon the farm in this township which has since belonged to Alexander Summers, and is now the property of Robert Cruthers. Mr. Williams' wife was Arah Dorsey, and they had seven children,—Eleven, Garard, Ezekiel, Otho, Eli, Lawrence, and Arah. Ezekiel, Otho, Eli, and Lawrence all emigrated to the West, and all farther trace of them has been lost. Garard married Ruth Clemens, and Arah became the wife of Dudley Evens, of Morgantown, and resided in West Virginia. Eleven Williams married Christiana Clemens. Squire Abraham Williams was their son, and Mrs. Ruth Alvy, who was the first child born in Taylorstown, is the only living representative of the Williams family.

Nathaniel McDowell emigrated from Scotland to Ireland, and thence to America about 1758, and settled near Chambersburg, Pa. From there he removed about 1780 to the country west of the Monongahela, passing by way of Catfish Camp (where there was at that time but one house), and settled in the wilderness on land that is now the farm of Joseph Johnston, in Buffalo township. On the 6th of September, 1793, McDowell warranted the tract "Wolf Ridge," two hundred and two acres, which was surveyed to him October 4th of the same year. Its location was on Buffalo Creek, adjoining lands of Marshall, Elisha Heath, James McClean, and William English. Afterwards he warranted and patented other lands in the vicinity. He died in 1826, at the age of eighty-eight years. Of his sons, Nathaniel and John emigrated to Wayne County, Ohio; Robert and James removed to Stark County, Ohio, and settled on adjoining tracts, there being no settlement near them, and at that time not a dwelling erected on the site of the present town of Massillon. Joseph received the homestead (one hundred and sixty acres) by the will of his father, Nathaniel. The daughters of Nathaniel McDowell were Elizabeth, wife of William Erwin; Letitia, wife of Hamilton Brownlee; and Sarah, wife of Samuel Neely.

Joseph McDowell lived on the homestead farm until his death in 1854. He had ten children, of whom but four survived him, and they are still living, viz.: Sarah A., Mrs. Ebenezer Graham, of Mercer County, Ill.; John McDowell, living on the old Jacob Wolfe and Lawrence Strickler property (three hundred and forty-eight acres); Nathaniel McDowell, who taught the Science Hill School in 1840, now a clergyman of the United Presbyterian Church at Indianola, Iowa; and Robert McDowell, living in Madison County, Iowa. John, the only one of the children of Joseph McDowell who remains a resident of Washington County, is one of the leading agriculturists of the county. He is a member of the State Agricultural Society, and largely and actively interested in everything pertaining to the advancement of that noble industry.

Charles McRoberts, Jr., was born in this township in 1774. His father, Charles McRoberts, Sr., came from Scotland to this section and settled on Buffalo Creek. Two Virginia certificates were issued to him, dated June 6, 1780, upon which he located two tracts of land. The first tract, "Mount Ararat," contained three hundred and ninety-nine acres, was bounded by lands of Thomas Gilliland, Kenneth McClellan, James and William McRoberts, and was surveyed to him Oct. 22, 1786, by Robert Woods, surveyor of Ohio County, Va. The second tract, "Buffalo Point," embraced three hundred and six acres, adjoined the lands of David and Joseph Williamson, Kenneth McClellan, and his own other lands, and was surveyed to him Oct. 23, 1786. Charles McRoberts, Jr., was a man universally respected, and during his life was one of the most useful men of his county. He died May 29, 1857, in the eighty-fourth year of his age.

English family

Nathaniel Templeton received a Virginia certificate Feb. 8, 1780, which gave him a body of land, "to include his settlement made in the year 1776." The name of the tract was "Independence." It was situated in Buffalo township, and after Nathaniel Templeton's death his widow, Isabella Templeton, rode to Harrisburg and obtained the patent upon it. They had no children, and Mrs. Templeton sold the property to John Lawrence. In 1811 he sold it to his son, John Lawrence, Jr., who held it in his possession until his death. He was a tanner, and conducted that business for more than sixty years. He was pronounced one of the most singular men of his day, and when he purchased the farm of his father, who removed from the place and left him in possession, he was still a bachelor. He afterwards married, but had no children. His property was divided among his relatives, and the original Lawrence tract is now owned by Samuel Woodburn.

Zachariah Cox came to this township from Berkeley County, Va., where his residence was near the mouth of Buck Creek. He was married to Miss Fry before leaving Virginia, and upon arriving here settled upon seventy-five acres of land at the head-waters of Buffalo Creek, which was surveyed to him in 1822. The land adjoined the tracts of Governor Joseph Ritner, John De Garms, and George Andrews, and the survey-book shows the improvements to have been commenced upon it in October, 1784. The tract now belongs to Uriah Clarke. Zachariah Cox lived upon it until his death at eighty-five years of age. He had a family of twenty-one children. Benjamin, John, and Zachariah, Jr., removed to Washington County, Iowa, and died there. Henry married Hannah, a daughter of John Wolf, of Canton township. All the family removed to other parts.

James Clemmens, with his wife (who was Hannah Walton), and their servants and slaves, crossed the mountains in a wagon and settled in Buffalo township, on the waters of Buffalo Creek. The tract of land "Rural Swain," which was secured on a Virginia certificate, was surveyed to Mr. Clemmens June 13, 1785, and is still held in the family, William Clemmens, a great-grandson, owning it. The children of James Clemmens were twelve, six sons and six daughters. William married Polly and Abraham married Elizabeth Wolf, daughters of Jacob Wolf, and all lived in this township. Jeremiah, who was a surveyor, married Mary Hawkins, of Kentucky. Hannah, who went to attend school in that State, married there, and Ruth, who became Mrs. Garard Williams, also emigrated there. James and Pamelia went to St. Louis, Mo., where they both married and settled. John Clemmens married Polly Fleck, daughter of John Fleck. He was a general in the war of 1812, and his widow became the wife of Dr. John Steele. One of his sons, a second John Clemmens, married a Miss Ewing, of Ohio. Ezekiel removed West. Christiana became Mrs. Eleven Williams, of Taylorstown. Nancy was the wife of Thomas Craig, and died in this county, and Hester Clemmens was the wife of James Clelland. Dr. James Clemmens, a noted physician of Wheeling, W. Va., was a descendant of this family.

John McWilliams came from Ireland to this country, locating in this township on "Lion's Bush," a tract of land granted him on a Virginia certificate, and surveyed Sept. 19, 1785. His wife was Jane Taylor, a daughter of Robert Taylor, the founder of Taylorstown, and their family numbered seven children. Of these John married Elizabeth Clelland; Margaret married William Noble, and both emigrated to the State of Ohio; Hannah married John Reed; and Sarah married James Reed, the latter couple making their home in East Finley township; Jane became Mrs. Berkley McLain, and resided in this township, while Mary, who married Thomas Hemphill, removed to West Liberty, W. Va. Wallace McWilliams took for his wife Nancy Clelland, and they had four children. He was one of the foremost men of Buffalo township, and was greatly interested in the cause of education. He was a general in the old militia days, represented his district in the State Legislature, and held many county offices during his life. From this time until 1837 only one date is given in most entries. It seems certain that this is a birth date, not a baptism date; but unless the word born actually appears before the date, it is cited here without the "b."

PIONEER FAMILIES OF DONEGAL TOWNSHIP, WASHINGTON COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA

(including present Blaine, Buffalo, East Finley and West Finley)

Bonner, Byers, Carroll, Carson, Clemens, Dennis, Enlow, Fullenwider, Glover, Graham, Grimes, Hawkins, Hupp, Leffler, McClelland, McDowell, McRoberts, McWilliams, Miller, Paxton, Philabaum, Rice, Rizor, Rodgers, Roney, Russell, Stricker, Summers, Templeton, Williams, Winter, Wolf

This is a record of a number of families who were living in Donegal Township, according to tax lists, as a part of the new Washington Count when it was formed in 1781 - and who spent their lives in the area. Donegal was the frontier. Its settlement began in 1772. William Hawkins and John Grimes were among the first to locate. The territory of Donegal in 1772 was a part of Bedford County (Pa). In 1773 it became a part of Pitt Township, Westmoreland County (Pa). Then in 1775 Virginia began holding courts and in 1776 what later became Donegal was made a part of Ohio County (Va). Twenty-one of the above 32 families are listed in the Ohio County 1778 list of tithables.

Settlers moved in rapidly and by 1777, when Indian attacks began, most of the good land had been taken up. The proximity to Ohio made Indian attacks possible at any time and for 5 years, until the fall of 1782, the settlers lived in constant fear. A number fled east. Some returned, but others did not. With the opening of Kentucky a number of Donegal families migrated, going down the Ohio. New families moved in, as others moved out. And with the opening of Ohio migration again increased. This is a record of families that stayed, although many of their children "went west".

In this account, families are included, for whom records are available. Several families are omitted for lack of data. The Indians killed a number of early settlers, including:

September	1781	Williams Hawkins, Jonathan Link, Francis Hupp
March	1782	John Hupp, Jacob Miller
September	1782	Conrad Philabaum, George Philabaum, John Kinser, Luke Scarmehorn

The chief sources are:

1) dates of settlement from Virginia certificates
2) oaths of allegiance 1777-78 Ohio County
3) deeds of Ohio County
4) federal census 1790
5) tax lists of Washington County 1782-89
6) estate records of Washington County
7) land grants by Pennsylvania
8) court records of Ohio County
9) militia records of both counties
10) tax list of Ohio County 1778 (Draper Manuscripts, Madison, Wis)

traveled quite extensively, spending some time in the "Far West." Mr. Irwin is a Democrat, and although not an office-seeker is one of the leaders of his party. He is a regular attendant of the United Presbyterian Church, of which he is a member.

WILLIAM M. HORN. The family, of which the subject of these lines is a prominent representative, are of German ancestry, and located in this county many years prior to the Revolution. The first couple of the name, of whom we have a record, were Martin and Peggy (Wilkins) Horn, who resided in Buffalo township, and reared a family of seven children.

John Horn, son of Martin and Peggy Horn, was born on the home farm in Buffalo township, and received a necessarily limited education. He grew to maturity amid the wild scenes of early civilization, and when a young man was married to Mary M. Gantz, daughter of John Gantz, an early resident of Greene county, Penn. The children born to this union were as follows: Martin, George C., Jacob, Hugh, Isaac, Margaret, Elizabeth (Mrs. Price), John, Hannah (Mrs. Elvey), William M. and Maria (Mrs. Coogle), of whom Jacob, John and Margaret are deceased.

William M. Horn, son of John and Mary M. Horn, was born April 18, 1839, in Buffalo township, Washington Co., Penn., where he was reared to agricultural pursuits, and received a good common-school education. In 1861 he, in company with his brothers Hugh and Jacob, bravely shouldered his musket in defense of the "Stars and Stripes," enlisting in Company A (Capt. Armstrong), One Hundredth P. V. I. He was mustered into service August 28, 1861, at Pittsburgh, Penn., and the company was first taken to Washington, D. C., thence to Beauport, S. C. He then participated in the following engagements: Port Royal, James Island, Bull Run, Chantilly, South Mountain, Antietam, Fredericksburg, the charge upon Fort Sanders at Knoxville, Tenn., Blue Springs, Ky., and siege of Vicksburg. Mr. Horn was at this time transferred to the army of the Potomac, and there fought in the battle of the Wilderness, North Anna river, Cold Harbor and Petersburg. At the last mentioned engagement he was wounded by a minie ball in the left shoulder. On August 28, 1864, he received an honorable discharge, and returned to the farm in Washington county, Penn. His brother Jacob died the day that his term of enlistment expired; Hugh is now living in Henry county, Iowa. On January 1, 1885, William M. Horn was united in marriage with Louisa, second daughter of John Clemens. The latter traced his genealogy back, through many years, to an Englishman who emigrated from his native land in a very early day, and taking up a large tract of land in Buffalo township, Washington county, became identified with the earliest history of the county. Among the sons of this early pioneer was one James Clemens, born in Washington county, and married to Hannah Walton, who bore him the following children: Jeremiah, born September 16, 1763; Christina, born January 21, 1765; William C., born January 30, 1767; Abram, born October 3, 1769; Ann, born October 5, 1771; Ruth, born March 26, 1773; John, born September 12, 1775; Parmelia, born April 10, 1777; James, born March 4, 1779; Hannah, born March 5, 1781; Ezekiel, born July 18, 1783, and Hester, born June 18, 1785.

William C. Clemens, son of James and Hannah Clemens, was born and reared on the farm in Buffalo township, Washington county. In early life he was married to Mary Wolfe, and their children were as follows: Dr. James Clemens, an eminent physician of Wheeling, W. Va., born May 26, 1795, died in 1845; Jacob, born November 6, 1796; Abraham, born September 7, 1798; Elizabeth, born February 1, 1800; William, born April 25, 1803; John C., born December 28, 1804; Hannah, born October 30, 1806; Sabina, born November 6, 1808; Amos, born August 14, 1810; Jeremiah, born May 10, 1812; Delilah, born February 6, 1815, and Hester, born July 2, 1818. Of this family Hannah is the only one yet living. The father was a farmer, and for many years was justice of the peace.

John C. Clemens, son of William C. and Mary (Wolfe) Clemens, was born on the old homestead in Buffalo township, this county. He was a prosperous farmer and an enterprising citizen. When a young man he was married to Louisa, only daughter of John Hupp, a wealthy farmer, a brother of the eminent physician, Dr. Hupp, of Wheeling, W. Va. To this union were born seven children, viz.: James C., John Hupp (he was a member of Company A, One Hundredth P. V. I., and was killed at Petersburg, Va., June 17, 1864), Isaac C., Veturia, Louisa (Mrs. Horn), Alonzo Walton (who lives on part of the home place) and John. Alonzo W. owns part of the Clemens homestead farm adjoining Mrs. Horn, on which are several good producing oil wells; there are also some good oil wells on Mrs. Horn's farm (what was once the Clemens homestead); there are in all twenty-four oil wells. Part of the farm is now owned by Mr. Werick and Mrs. Horn, Alonzo W. owning the rest. John C. Clemens, the father of this family, served for many years as justice of the peace; he was first cousin of Samuel Clemens, better known by the nom de plume of "Mark Twain."

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Horn reside on eighty-five acres of the Clemens farm, part of the old homestead, and he also owns part of the old homestead containing 125 acres, on which he was born and raised, and on which is an extensive stone quarry, leased to the Pittsburgh Stone Company, and he realizes a handsome royalty. Mr. Horn gives his attention to farming and stock raising. In politics he votes with the Republican party.

ABSALOM ASHBROOK. Simeon Ashbrook, the second in his father's family, in the order of their birth, was a blacksmith by trade, and during twelve years of his life lived in Augusta township, Carroll Co., Ohio, where he worked at his trade. Before removing thither he married Emma Sherah, of Buffalo township, Washington Co., Penn. Returning to Pennsylvania, he spent the remainder of his life in Washington county. To Mr. and Mrs. Ashbrook six children were born: Mary, Absalom, Ann, Margaret, Nancy and Amy, of whom only two are living, Amy (widow of John Wolfe) and Absalom (who was born November 26, 1818).

Absalom Ashbrook's opportunities for obtaining an education were very limited. He learned the blacksmith's trade with his father, whom he assisted in the shop at an almost incredibly early age. He followed the trade until 1879, since which time he has given his attention to managing his farm work. In 1844 he married Sabina Elliot, who was born May 24, 1828, a daughter of William Elliot, of Morris township, and to their union came the following children: Simeon, born April 4, 1846, died in 1883; Jemima, born June 30, 1847, died when quite young; William, born October 3, 1848 (he was twice married—first to Ella Weir, and, after her death, to Ella Day); Amy, born August 1, 1850, married Will Stallar, of West Finley township; Nancy Ann, born March 1, 1852, married James Stallar, of East Finley township; Jackson, born October 31, 1853, married Lizzie Loafman, and now resides in Burnsville; Mary Margaret, born May 8, 1855, died in 1880; Alexander, born October 1, 1856, is a carpenter by trade, and resides with his father; Abraham, born March 26, 1858, resides with his father, and assists in the farm work; Absalom, born January 13, 1861, married Lizzie McClellan, of East Finley township, and resides in that township; John N., born January 18, 1863, died at the age of two years; Robert E. Lee, born March 13, 1865, is a prominent physician of Wheeling, W. Va., and Sabina, born July 16, 1871, resides at home. Mr. Ashbrook is a Democrat in politics, and both he and his wife are members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

RICHARD M. MOUNTS, a worthy representative of one of the oldest families of the county, and a prominent citizen of Franklin township, of which he is a native, was born July 10, 1836. Richard Mounts, his grandfather, was a native of Maryland, and at the age of sixteen came to Washington county, arriving in 1773, when there were but few settlers in its forest wilds. His wife was Mary Keley, who was born on the broad Atlantic when her parents were crossing from Ireland to the shores of Columbia. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Mounts settled on a small farm near what is now the thriving city of Washington, and commenced life in a very primitive and humble way. Their little log cabin was furnished with home-made stools in lieu of chairs, a table to correspond, while the bedstead was so ingeniously fixed to the walls in one corner of the room as to require only one leg. But they lived "far from the madding crowd," contented and happy in the enjoyment of life. The children born to this honored pioneer couple were William, Mary, Jennie (the widow of George Boyd, and the only one living), John, James, Matilda, Richard R., Joseph and Martha. When Mr. Mounts first started out in the world to fight his own way he was under age; and in order to compensate his father for the loss of his services from that time until his coming of age, he paid him the sum of £15. His political sympathies were with the Federalists; he was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Richard R. Mounts, father of subject, was born in what is now called West Washington, then known as Rankintown, this county, and passed his boyhood and youth assisting his father on the farm, his education being necessarily meager, all the schooling he received having been acquired when other duties were less pressing. When a young man he and his brother purchased the land in Franklin township now owned by our subject, which they improved, and where for a time they kept bachelor's hall until the marriage, in 1835, of Richard R. with Margaret, daughter of William and Sarah Johnson, of Lancaster county, Penn. Of this union were born four children: Richard M., Sarah (Mrs. William Weir, of Franklin township), William, who died in 1863, and James A., of Franklin township. They remained on the farm just referred to the rest of their lives. He died November 5, 1878, at the age of sixty-six years, his wife in May, 1887, when aged sixty-seven years. Mr. Mounts was one of the hardest working men in his township, and was deservedly successful, as well as popular. All his life he took an active part in politics, having been first a Whig, and afterward, on the organization of the party, a straight Republican. For some time he was a

Hi All, I am sending histories of Adam and Nicholas Clemens, will probably be several parts.
Sincerely,
Helen in Pa.

Adam Clemens History

Henry Fullenwider, whose wife was Ann Rice, owned the farm known as "Panther's Grove", containing 172 acres which joined the land owned by Jacob Miller.

On December 1, 1789, Henry Fullenwider made his last will and Testament, naming Abraham Rice and Joseph Alexander as his executors. Sometime between Dec. 1st and December 9th of that year, Fullenwider died, for on the latter date the two executors entered into a contract to sell this "Panther's Grove" to Adam Clemens for 172 pounds. Adam Clemens, however, did not come in full possession of this land until 1795 due to the fact that the widow, Ann Fullenwider, held a dowager interest in the land until 1794 and then due to the death of Abraham Rice, one of the executors, Adam Clemens did not receive a deed until Nov. 15, 1803 from the surviving executor, Joseph Alexander.

On March 22, 1794, Adam Clemens and Abraham Clemens (probably a brother) purchased from Aaron DeLong, a tract of land containing 179 acres for a consideration of 75 pounds. This land was located in the southwest Corner of the township between Buffalo Creek and Sugar Run, and was called "Rich Hill", on which DeLong made settlement in 1772.

On Feb. 25, 1801, Abraham Clemens sold to Adam Clemens his interest in this land, and then on August 26, 1801 Adam Clemens sonl 111 acres of this same tract to Robert Cummins for 131 pounds. On August 28th of the same year he sold the remainder to Samuel Gilmore for 105 pounds. (error by state of Pa.)

Adam Clemens died intestate probably in 1825, and his children according to the records in the Orphans Court in Washington are as follows:

Nicholas Clemens
Abraham Clemens
Adam Clemens
George Clemens
John Clemens
David Clemens
Elizabeth Clemens, intermarried to George Kerns

The court appointed Nicholas and Abraham Clemens as Administrators and the estate was settled at the June term of the Orphan's Courtt 1827. (Docket C., page 324)

The Administrators divided the land known as the "Panther's Grove" into two parts. One part containing 116 acres was deeded to John, Abraham, George and Elizabeth, while the other part containing 75 acres was deeded to Nicholas, Adam, and David.

The children then disposed of their interest as follows: the tract of 75 acres, owned jointly by Nicholas, David and Adam came into possession of David and Adam by virtue of the fact that Nicholas and his wife gave a quit claim deed to their interest for a consideration of $200. On September 28, 1858, David and Adam Clemens sold this tract to James, Henry and Samuel Noble for a consideration of $3000, and thus this part of the "Panther's Grove" tract passed out of the name of the Clemens family.

The other tract of the "Panther's Grove" containing 116 acres and owned jointly by John, Abraham, George and Elizabeth was all acquired by the brother George Clemens as follows:

Abraham Clemens to George Clemens, April 25, 1829, by quit claim deed, consideration $200.

John Clemens to George Clemens, March 5, 1850, by quit claim deed, consideration $200.

Elizabeth Clemens (Kerns) to George Clemens, June 12, 1841, quit claim deed, consideration $465.50.

Thus George Clemens came into full posession of that part of the Adam Clemens homestead on the Dutch Fork Creek, and George Clemens continued to live on it the remainder of his life.

George Clemens was born Jan. 12, 1798 and died Nov. 22, 1888, having lived to the advanced age of almost 91 years. His wife Elizabeth Clemens was born Feb. 17, 1813 and died Feb. 18, 1875.

From the terms of his will, his children were as follows:

Sophia Clemens m. John Miller, descendant of John Miller s/o Jacob Miller I.
Rachel Clemens-Stewart
Adam Clemens
Matilda Clemens
Amanda Clemens

By the terms of this will executed May 17, 1879, he bequeathed the farm to his daughters, Matilda and Amanda. Amanda Clemens died July 2, 1928, aged 84 years and the last of the family. At her death the land passed out of the Clemens name which they had owned about 139 years.

Nicholas Clemens

Nicholas Clemens, son of Adam Clemens, was born Feb. 19, 1787 and died March 2, 1870. He married Mary Miller b. 1794-d.1862, daughter of Captain Jacob Miller.

As children these two grew up on adjoining farms where their friendship grew into love with the result they were married but the exact date is not known.

On November 18, 1814, Nicholas Clemens purchased from Samuel Dickey, Jr., a tract of land in Donegal township consisting of 114 acres for a consideration of $1021.50. This farm was located about two miles north of West Alexander and 3 or 4 miles southwest of the old Miller Blockhouse. On this farm Nicholas Clemens and his wife reared their family and made it his home until his death in 1870.

On March 24, 1862, soon after the death of his wife, Nicholas Clemens deeded this farm to his son, John J. Clemens, for the consideration of $5.00 and natural love and affection I hold for my son, John J. Clemens, and the further consideration that he provide me with food, shelter, and raiment during my natural life.

Both Nicholas Clemens and his wife are buried in the Zion Cemetery.

It might be well to mention at this point, that the tax list are hand written, and very difficult to read. Every effort was used to type the name as it was written on the list, using the spelling as found. The above record was found on page #20 of Berks County Tax records.

In Book #76, "Berks County Assessments and Taxables" for the year 1782, we find the following list of resident taxpayers and the amount of tax due. The list was marked "Class No 74".

In 1790, the first census of the United States was done. Again, at this time, Pine Grove Township was part of Berks County. In most cases, the residents remained the same when Pine Grove became part of Schuylkill.

The census records were divided into 6 columns with the following headings: (a) Name of Head of Family, (b) Free white males of 16 years and upward, including heads of families, (c) Free white males under 16 years, (d) Free white females, including heads of families, (e) All other free persons, (f) Slaves. Please consult this heading list as you check the 1790 census for Pine Grove Township of 1790.

NOTE: This completes Volume One of Schuylkill County - Pennsylvania Vital Records. Volume Two is already started and should be coming out soon. We still have a lot of records we would like to provide to you, but before a Volume Three will be released, the publisher needs to see the response to the first two volumes to determine if future volumes can be justified. In addition, so that we can meet your needs for future volumes, should they be justified, we need to know what you as the Researcher wants most. Church Records, Court Records, Cemetery Records, etc. It is therefore our wish that you take a few moments and drop a short note to us, in care of the Publisher and voice your desires for future volumes. We as the compilers will dc our best to meet your requests.

SCHUYLKILL COUNTY

PENNSYLVANIA

Schuylkill County, Pennsylvania with its present County Seat at Pottsville was created on March 1, 1811 from Berks and Northampton Counties. On March 3, 1818 in order to straighten out the County lines, a small piece was added from Columbia and Luzerne Counties bringing it to its present size.

The earliest census records for the County as Schuylkill, begin in 1820, and they show a population of approximate 11,311, and by the 1870 census, the population had grown to 116,428. For the most part, the population continued through the years, however with the decline of "King Coal" our famous anthracite, the population did take a slight downward swing.

Schuylkill County has played a big part in shaping the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as it lies in the anthracite coal region and in its day, coal "ruled". Throughout the county you will find memorials to the men and women of the region who have served in every war or armed conflict this country fought, from the French & Indian War to the Vietnam Conflict and Schuylkill County is proud of its heros and heroines.

TO OUR READERS

Jean and I have worked very hard to compile this copy of "VITAL RECORDS". Many cemeteries have been walked, many stones copies, large dusty record books in the courthouse have been man/woman-handled, irate clerks have been pacified, all sorts of weather braved, and our eyes treated to all sorts of handwriting, some sloppy, some so fancy it was nearly impossible to read, so it stands to reason that there will be some errors arising. Please do not hold this against us as we tried to make this as accurate as possible. Many of the old tombstones were so worn from age and the elements, they were impossible to read, but we tried every possible method of extraction, sometimes successful and sometimes not. If doubt arose, a (?) question mark will indicate a name, or "unreadable" and "unknown" will be used.

We hope that you enjoy this copy of "VITAL RECORDS" as much as we did researching it, and you make it a permanent part of your library.

DEDICATION

No book is complete without a "Dedication" and in this case, special recognition needs to be shown to my mother: H. Grace (TROXELL) RICE, who gave up part of her time with me while I was on vacation so I could tramp all over the county, and Jean would like to show recognition to her husband: Stephen DELLOCK and also to her four sons for the time spent away from them while researching. Therefore, to H. Grace RICE and to Stephen DELLOCK and sons, we dedicate this volume of "VITAL RECORDS" of Schuylkill County, Pennsylvania.

A very quick response, since I am very short of time. M. Twp. was formed I think 1807 as part of Berks County, when Schuylkill was formed in 1811 I think M was divided into Upper and Lower. Later, about 1847?, part of Tremont and I think Frailey Twp was taken from the southern part of Lower M., and about 1848 Eldred was taken from Upper on the east. Later, about 1854 Hubley and Hegins were taken from what was left of Lower....this effectively eliminated Lower. The balance of Upper remains in existence. All of this is today still a part of Schuylkill, not Northumberland County. Upper M and Eldred adjoin southern Northumberland County. Hope this clarifies things. I have no idea why M is not listed in Pa. Line as a current township.

Marc,

This is an excellent question and one I should address on the Snyder County PAGenWeb site. In order to facilitate discussion of the history of Mahantango Township, you will need to keep in mind three dates:

1772 Northumberland County formed
1813 Union County formed from Northumberland County
1855 Snyder County formed from southern part of Union County

In 1795 a number of inhabitants of Penns Township, Northumberland County, petitioned for a new township called Mahantango. It was named for the creek that now forms the southeastern border of Snyder County. In April of 1796 the new township was created which includes the present townships of Chapman, Perry and West Perry in Snyder County. The township was one of those comprising Union County when it was formed from Northumberland County in 1813. When Washington and Perry Townships were formed from Mahantango Township, the latter was so reduced in size as to contain only fifty inhabitants. The township appears for the last time in court records in 1819. The following year, 1820, Chapman Township was erected and annexed all of Mahantango Township. Thus, Mahantango Township existed from 1796 to 1813 in Northumberland County, and from 1813 to 1820 in Union County.

Upper Mahantango Township is located in Schuylkill County and was formed in 1811. There once was a Lower Mahantango Township in Schuylkill County but it was legislated out of existence. It comprises the townships of Hubley, Hegins, Porter and part of Frailey Townships. These two Mahantango townships have no genealogical or legislative relationship to the one now encompassing the three southernmost townships of Snyder County.

If anyone has further documented information, please let me know.

Mahantongo township used to be in what is now southern Snyder county. According to Bell's "History of Northumberland County," Northumberland ceded nine townships to Union county: Beaver, Buffalo, Centre, Hartley, Mahantongo, Penn, Washington, West Buffalo, and White Deer. Union county also included the land of present day Snyder County. These twonships were later subdivided and Penn & Washington townships were annexed by Snyder County in 1855. (I quote this from the Union Co. web pages).

From the table of township formation in Snyder County's web page we find Perry township formed in 1816 from Mahantango, while part of Union county....Washington township formed in 1818 from Penn, Center and Mahantango, while part of Union County.

This area is in the southern part of Snyder county near the borders of Juniata, Perry and Northumberland counties.

Hope this helps.........Lisa Betts

Church Consecration.

What was commonly called "Stone Church," situated in Low. Augusta, some six miles from Sunbury, is being remodeled and repaired. It was formerly constructed on the old German style, the ceiling very high and arched, galleries on the sides, and on the fourth side a very high, narrow and uncomfortable pulpit, looking like a mammoth wine glass made of wood.

It is now being made into two stories and both are ample in height. The lower contains a large basement, and a rather fine vestibule which contains the stairway leading to the hall, intended for regular dsevice; this is papered. The pulpit is modern in style, and opposite to it is a raised platform with seats intended for a choir. The pews are comfortably made of pine, and capped with white oak. The church is furnished with heaters in the basement, so that no stoves disfigure the main hall, or incommode the worshippers by the unequal temperature they cause. Although the church will present a neat appearance especially inside.

Additional residents in Penn's township: Abraham ent[illegible]chael Hawn, Henry Miser, George Miller, John Swartz, hior Stock, Adam Steffy, Simon Scouden, widow of Andrew e, Benjamin Ewig, Conrad Hafflich, John Reber. The first ments of Penn's and Buffalo, from the organization of the y down to 1775, seem to have been lost when the records were rded to Paxton, during the great runaway. List of settlers t, therefore, be given for the three years intervening.

t March, Northumberland county was erected out of parts of . Bedford, Lancaster, Cumberland, and Northampton, by the ing bounds: Beginning at the mouth of Mahantango creek, south side, to the head of Robert Meteer's spring, (in West . near Mr. Winey's, sometimes miscalled Montour's spring;) west by north, to the top of Tussey's mountain; thence along the summit to the little Juniata; thence up the east side of the main branch, to the head thereof; thence north to the line of Berks county; thence north-west, along the same line, to the extremity of the Province; thence east, along the north boundary, to a point due north of the most northern part of Great swamp, (the numerous ponds in the upper end of Luzerne county are here referred to;) thence south to the most southern point of said swamp; thence, with a straight line, to the head of Lehigh; thence down the creek so far that a line run west south-west will strike the forks of Mahantango creek, where Pine creek falls into the same, at the place called Spread Eagle, (now Klingerstown,) on the east side of the Susquehanna; thence down the south side of the creek to the river; thence across the river to the beginning.

The county, therefore, extended as far west as Lake Erie, the head of Lehigh on the east, (Pike county,) New York State on the north, and the mouth of Mahantango creek on the south. Fort Augusta was fixed as the place of election, and the county to be entitled to one Representative. The Governor was to nominate a competent number of justices, any three of whom could hold the several courts on the fourth Tuesday of February, May, August, and November, at Fort Augusta, until a court-house should be built. William Maclay, John Lowdon, Samuel Hunter, Joseph Wallis, and Robert Moodie were appointed trustees to purchase a piece of ground on which the court-house was to be erected, subject to the Governor's approval. Thomas Lemmon was made collector of excise. Joshua Elder, James Potter, Jesse Lukens, and William Scull were appointed to run the boundary line.

Officials.

William Plunket, Turbutt Francis, Samuel Hunter, James Potter, William Maclay, John Lowdon, Thomas Lemmon, Ellis Hughes, and Benjamin Weiser confirmed as justices in Council, and William Maclay, prothonotary and clerk of the several courts, March 24.

The first county commissioners were William Gray, Thomas Hewitt, and John Weitzel. November 23, Casper Reed, of Penn's, was sworn in as county commissioner; Alexander Hunter, county treasurer; Walter Clark, Jonathan Lodge, Peter Hosterman, James

Doctor John Houston was the earliest physician in White Deer township, that I have any knowledge of. He is said to have resided at or near the present village of Hightown.

Reverend J. H. Fries was called, 27 April, 1812, to Buffalo Valley. Early in June, Mr. John Reber an elder[1] in the Dreisbach church, left home with his team, and proceeded to York county to bring up the new minister. Often have we seen this worthy man in his old age, renew his youth, while he related, in the most circumstantial manner, the varied events of this eventful journey down into a strange country, with much anxiety, and back again, with a precious load and a glad heart. Having arrived safely in Mifflinburg, Mr. Fries entered upon his duties in his new field on the 17th of June, 1812. His field extended east and west from Brush valley, and the lower end of Penn's valley, to Bloomsburg, and up and down the Susquehanna from Muncy to Selinsgrove. His first regular charge was composed of Mifflinburg, Dreisbach's, New Berlin, Aaronsburg, and Brush Valley. Besides these, he preached at many collegiate department, from which he was graduated in June, 1899. He took a post-graduate course there and was an instructor in the academic department for two years, after which he taught the Winfield (Md.) Academy one year. In 1902 he entered the Ursinus School of Theology, then located at No. 3262 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, but now affiliated with Tiffin Seminary and located at Dayton, Ohio. He graduated from the Ursinus School of Theology in Philadelphia in 1905, and his first charge was at McAdoo, Pa., where he was stationed about two years. He was then called to a large field at Ringtown, in the same county, preaching there sixteen months, when he received a call from the Mahanoy charge, which he has since served. He has over five hundred members at these five churches to look after, and is a conscientious and effective worker. He has resided with his family at Mahanoy since 1908. Mr. Kopenhaver is a close student of the Scriptures, and he has a good working library.

In 1901 Mr. Kopenhaver married Cora A. Witmer, daughter of Ephraim and Harriet (Hain) Witmer, of Lower Mahanoy township. Mrs. Kopenhaver taught school in that township for a period of nine years. She is an intelligent, capable woman, an ideal minister's helpmate. Mr. and Mrs. Kopenhaver have three children: Ralph W., Hannah J. and Mary E.

Benneville Koppenhaffer, a citizen of Lower Mahanoy township, whose home is along the Mahantango creek, was born Aug. 25, 1829, son of Benjamin and Hannah (Radel) Koppenhaffer, and grandson of Michael Koppenhaffer (also spelled Koppenhaver), who lived in the Lykens Valley, where he operated a large farm, and where he died about 1831, aged seventy-one years. He is buried at St. John's Church, near Berrysburg. His wife, Catharine Garret, died some years after her husband. They had the following children: Michael, John, Jonathan, George, Daniel, Benjamin, Catharine, Betsy and Sarah.

Benjamin Koppenhaffer, son of Michael, was born Feb. 22, 1801, and died April 10, 1871. His wife, Hannah Radel, was a daughter of John Radel. Mr. Koppenhaffer was a farmer in the Lykens Valley, where he owned a tract of eighty acres. His latter years he spent with his son Benneville, dying at Vera Cruz. He was a member of St. John's Union Church of Berrysburg, where he held various church offices, he and his wife later belonging to the Vera Cruz Church. She later married John A. Snyder, being his third wife. To Benjamin Koppenhaffer and his wife were born five sons and three daughters: Joel, David, Henry, John, Benneville, Dinah (married John Lehman), Mary Ann (died unmarried) and Sallie (married John Miller).

Benneville Koppenhaffer was born and reared in Mifflin township, in the Lykens Valley. He learned blacksmithing and followed that trade for thirty years at different places while he was young, later having a shop along the Mahantango creek, on the Dauphin county side. He then purchased his present eighty-one-acre farm on the Northumberland county side of the Mahantango creek, and there farmed until his retirement, in 1898, being succeeded by his son Benneville, Jr. He is a Democrat and was a school director of Lower Mahanoy township for six years. He and his family are Lutheran members of the Vera Cruz Church, which he served as deacon and elder.

On Jan. 1, 1854, Mr. Koppenhaffer married Susan Witmer, daughter of Michael Witmer, and to them have been born twelve children: Catharine, married to Isaac Snyder; Anna, married to Daniel Snyder; Matilda, who married Philip Zerbe and (second) Philip Updegrove; Sarah, who died unmarried; Emma, married to Daniel Snyder (no relative to the others); John; Isaac; Benneville; William; Jacob, who died aged seven years; and two daughters, who died young.

PETER CLEMENT, the ancestor of a numerous posterity who now reside in Northumberland county, many writing the name Clemens, was a native of Berks county, Pa., born in that part now included in Schuylkill county, and there lived in Pine Grove township. Coming to Northumberland county, he settled in the vicinity of Augustaville, in Lower Augusta (now Rockefeller) township, and there followed farming. He died in 1817, when about forty-six years old, and is buried at the old Augustaville Union Church. His wife, Sophia Kramer, born Sept. 16, 1781, survived him many years, dying Feb. 18, 1854, and she, too, is buried at the Augustaville Church. They had children as follows: Samuel, who lived and died at Sunbury, was a boat contractor and builder, his nephew, Benjamin, working for him some years (he had two children, Nelson and another); Michael died young; Abraham is mentioned below; Jacob and John settled at Harrisburg; Peter is mentioned below; Hannah went out West, where she married, lived and died.

Peter Clement, son of Peter, born Dec. 25, 1813, in Jackson township, Northumberland county, did laboring work, and owned a few acres of land upon which he lived, located about two miles north of Herndon. This home his grandson, Francis Clement, now owns and occupies. Peter Clement was a Lutheran in religious faith. He died March 8, 1854, and was buried in a private graveyard in Jackson township, near Deppen's schoolhouse, but later he was re-interred at Peifer's United Evangelical Church, at Mandata. His wife, Rebecca (Adams), born Jan. 28, 1814, died Aug. 26, 1864. They were the parents of the following children: Benjamin; Abraham; Isaac; Jeremiah; Peter; Samuel; Mary, who married John Hile; Lovina, who married James Wetzel; and Abbie, who married Daniel Reitz.

Benjamin Clement, son of Peter and Rebecca (Adams) Clement, was born in Jackson township, and was reared by Benjamin Heim and wife, who had stood sponsors for him at his baptism; he was named Benjamin after Mr. Heim. The Heims had no children, and after they died Benjamin Clement became the owner of their eighty-acre farm, where he settled in 1861 and passed the remainder of his life, cultivating it from the time of his marriage until his death. His widow and three of his children still make their home on that place, which is in Jackson township. Mr. Clement learned the trade of carpenter, which he followed during his earlier life. He died in Jackson township Jan. 19, 1909, aged seventy-four years, four months, seventeen days. He was a member of Peifer's United Evangelical Church, which he served officially, and he and his wife are buried at that church. Politically he was a Democrat, and he was quite active in public affairs, serving as supervisor and overseer of the poor of Jackson township. His wife, Mary (Brower), was a daughter of Nathan Brower, of Jackson township. They had a family of eight children: Ira B. is mentioned later; Jane married Oliver Leffler; Flora married Harvey Hess; Howard is a resident of Herndon, Pa.; Daniel died Dec. 20, 1898, aged twenty-six years, eight months, twelve days; Francis is mentioned later: Bertha and Amanda are both unmarried, and they and their brother Francis continue to make their home on the old place.

Ira B. Clement, son of Benjamin, is engaged in farming in Rockefeller township, where he has a valuable place of 135 acres. He is a native of Jackson township, born Sept. 2, 1863, and was reared to farming, in his early manhood hiring out among farmers until he reached the age of twenty-five. In the spring of 1889 he began farming for himself on the Daniel Holshue farm, in Lower Mahanoy township, where he was a tenant for fifteen years. He then farmed the Israel Byerly place near Hickory Corners, in the same township, for a period of two years, in the spring of 1906 moving to his present farm, in Rockefeller township, which was formerly the Jared Snyder place. Mrs. Clement was reared on this farm. It is nicely located and in an excellent state of cultivation, Mr. Clement being an intelligent, industrious farmer, ranking among the substantial citizens of his township. He is serving at present as one of the members of the school board. Mr. Clement is a Democrat in political matters, and he is a member of Peifer's Evangelical Church at Mandata. His wife is a member of the Emanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church in Rockefeller township.

On Sept. 14, 1889, Mr. Clement married Ella Snyder, daughter of Jared and Elizabeth (Rebuck) Snyder, and they have a family of four children: Mary, Amanda, Mabel and Samuel.

Francis Clement, son of Benjamin, was born Dec. 8, 1875, in Jackson township, was reared on the homestead, and has followed farming there all his days. He now owns the old homestead place, the property at present comprising sixty-eight acres, and is regarded as one of the thoroughly progressive young agriculturists of his district. Peter Clement, his grandfather, built the barn on this farm, and the other buildings were erected by Benjamin Clement, father of the present owner. On Oct. 11, 1908, Francis Clement married Alice Tressler, daughter of William Tressler, of Rockefeller township. Mr. and Mrs. Clement are members of the United Evangelical Church (Peifer's) at Mandata.

Abraham Clement, another son of Peter, the pioneer in Northumberland county, was born April 6, 1816, in Lower Augusta township, where he lived for a time, later moving to Milton and thence to Mooresburg. He was a miller by trade, and followed farming also, living with his son Peter, however, for some years before his death. He died in Point township, where his son Peter now lives, March 27, 1895, aged seventy-nine years less eleven days, and is buried at the Oak Grove Church in Montour county. His wife, Lucy Ann (Heilman), was a daughter of Daniel Heilman, of Lower Augusta township, and died when sixty-three years of age. She, too, is buried at Oak Grove Church. Fourteen children were born to this couple: Peter; Sophia, born March 16, 1843 (married Elias Baylor): Christiana (married Peter Seiler); Daniel, born Nov. 22, 1845; Mary (Maria), born Dec. 17, 1846 (married D. C. Young; she was lame): John, born March 3, 1848; Samuel, born Feb. 27, 1849 (deceased); Abram, born Sept. 12, 1850; Jane; Jeremiah, born Sept. 29, 1855; Hannah, born March 3, 1857 (married S. Raup); Catharine, born June 1, 1858 (married Samuel Wagner); Jacob and Lucy, both of whom died in infancy. Some of this family are out West.

Peter Clemens, son of Abraham and Lucy Ann (Heilman) Clement, was born Oct. 29, 1841, in Lower Augusta township. He was educated in the public schools and brought up to farm life, which he has followed most successfully. When twenty-three years old he enlisted at Philadelphia in Company I, 112th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, and served almost two years, lacking only a few days of that period. Returning to his home county after the war he was married March 27, 1866, to Caroline Brouse, daughter of Samuel Brouse, of Snyder county, later of Northumberland county, and then located in Point township. He did laboring work for one year, in the spring of 1867 moving to Montandon, where he resided a few years, until the spring of 1870. He has since farmed in Point township, where he rented land for twenty years, in the year 1889 settling on his present place in that township, a fifty-three-acre farm of good limestone soil, where he has profitably followed general farming and trucking. For eighteen years he also engaged in lime-burning, carrying on that business until 1907, so extensively that he burned as much as 95,000 bushels in one year. Mr. Clemens has been interested in the various activities of his community, has filled the office of school director five years and that of supervisor many years, and has long been an active member of Trinity Lutheran Church in Point township, of which he has been a trustee since 1904; he was elder for a number of years, and has served in all the various church offices. His family are also Lutherans in religion. Politically he is a Democrat. He is a man whose upright life and devotion to duty commend him to the confidence of his fellow citizens, and he is respected wherever known. To Mr. and Mrs. Clemens have been born children as follows: Harvey S., now of Northumberland; Albert W., of St. Joseph, Mo.; Catharine A., who is unmarried and living at home; Lucy A., a widow, of St. Joseph, Mo.; Maria V., who died aged twenty years; Mary M., who married Spencer Black, of Watsontown, Pa.; Abraham B., of Sunbury, this county; Maud S., who married August Schaffer and lives in Point township; and Jeremiah, also of Point township.

Abram Clemens, son of Abraham and Lucy Ann (Heilman) Clement, was born Sept. 12, 1850, in Lower Augusta township, where he attended school. When twelve years old he went with his father to Milton, where he continued his studies for a time, and he remained with his father until his marriage, living at Mooresburg for six months. In 1871 he came to his present farm in East Chillisquaque township, the Andrew Kurtz place, on the road between Milton and Danville. This property he bought in 1885. It comprises about seventy acres, and a fine limestone quarry is located on the tract. In addition to farming Mr. Clemens has done an extensive business burning lime, which is very plentiful on his land, finding a ready market for the product in his immediate vicinity. He has prospered by hard work and strict attention to business, and he enjoys the esteem of his neighbors, whom he has served in the office of school director. In politics he is a Democrat, in religion a member of the Lutheran Church, which he serves at present as elder.

In 1870 Mr. Clemens married Sarah Kurtz, daughter of Andrew and Sarah (Teel) Kurtz, and granddaughter of Andrew Kurtz, who lived in Northampton county. Mr. and Mrs. Clemens have a large family, viz.: Andrew married Betty Noriconk and has children, Harold and Lee; Maggie married Irwin Faus; Cora married Charles Rine and has two children, John A. and Emeline J.; Newton married Bertha Zoug and their children are Miriam, Myrland, Carold and Herman; John A. married Irene Benneth and their children are Melvin and Mildred; Peter married Lottie Wagner; Maude married Myrle Crunly and has children, Margaret and Paul; Jeremiah married Della Renn and their children are Charlotte and Roy Henry; Bessie married Frank Muffley and has one son, Abram C.; Samuel and Pearl are unmarried.

JOHN WEISER BUCHER, formerly of Sunbury, a citizen of that borough whose activities in business, social and public circles made him known to most of its residents, was born there Sept. 15, 1835. He is a member of the third generation of his family to live at that place, the Buchers having been active and prominent here from the early days, the emigrant members of the family having settled in Sunbury in the days of the Indian occupation.

John, Henry and Dietrich Bucher came to Pennsylvania from Switzerland, Dietrich establishing an iron furnace near Reading, Berks county, John and Henry locating at Sunbury, Northumberland county. Henry Bucher, who was the grandfather of John Weiser Bucher, was born April 16, 1764, in Switzerland, was a farmer by occupation, and resided at what is now the southwest corner of Walnut and Third streets, owning much land in Sunbury—nearly all that part of the borough between the Susquehanna river and Shamokin creek from the mouth of the latter to Spruce street. He was the first to put this land under cultivation. He married Catharine Epley, who was born Jan. 24, 1768, and died at Sunbury Aug. 17, 1847. Mr. Bucher died at Sunbury Feb. 3, 1824. Their children were: Henry; Elizabeth, who married George Weiser, a tanner; Mary, who married Jacob Leisenring; Francis; George, who was a soldier in the war of 1812; and John. Of this family, Henry lived and died in Sunbury; he had a hotel on Front street, and operated the ferry for some years.

Francis Bucher, youngest son of Henry and Catharine (Epley) Bucher, lived at the old homestead in Sunbury. He learned the trade of tanner and was one of the last persons engaged in that business in the borough. He died March 19, 1875, at the age of seventy. On Dec. 8, 1831, he married Mary Ann Masser, and to their union were born six sons and two daughters: The eldest two, both named Henry, died in infancy; John Weiser is the oldest surviving member of the family; Emily died unmarried in 1908; Edward (deceased) married Amelia Fisher (whose mother was ninety-seven years old in 1910—the oldest living woman in Sunbury); Richard, who lived and died male over, and four under 16 years, and four females.

and four females. Hugh served in Capt. Michael Motz's Company of the Northumberland Co. Militia.

GEORGE CATHERMAN lived in what is now Snyder County for part of the Revolutionary period. In 1786, he was taxed as a single freeman in Buffalo Township (now Union County). It is believed that he was a relative of Jacob Catherman. Both were soldiers. George served as a private in Captain John Moll's Co., from Northumberland County.

JACOB CHATHAM was assessed in Beaver Township in 1790. At that time his family consisted of two sons under 16, one daughter, his wife and himself.

JAMES CHRISTY was probably a native of Cumberland County. He was assessed in Beaver Township for the first time in 1789. A James Christy was granted 400 acres of land in Bedford County in 1794. A James Christy served as a private, 8th class, in Captain Joshua Brown's Company, 8th Battalion of the Cumberland County Militia. In 1790, he lived in Mifflin County, south of the Juniata River, and his family consisted of two males over and three under 16, and two females.

JAMES CLARK was probably a native of Lancaster County. He was assessed in Penn Township for the first time in 1787, and in 1789 he lived in Beaver Township. In the beginning he was assessed with personal property only. A James Clark was a Sergeant in the 7th Pennsylvania Regiment, Continental Line, and the same, or an other of the same name was a First Lieutenant in the 4th Battalion of the Lancaster County Militia in 1777. In 1790, his family consisted of one son under 16, three daughters, his wife, and himself.

ABRAHAM CLEMENS (also Clemmens, Clemmence, Clemence, Clemence, Clements, Clemmons, etc.) was assessed in Penn Twp., for the first time in 1772, but it seems that his name did not appear again. Because there was no distinction made in the earlier lists between resident and non-resident landowners, the compiler is not sure that this man ever lived in the county. In 1799, an Abraham Clemens, carpenter, lived in the city of Reading, and his name continued there for some years. Edward, Michael and Peter, who lived in the county (Snyder) were possibly relatives of his. An Abraham Clement served with the New Levies, and also in the 9th Pennsylvania Regiment, Continental Line.

EDWARD CLEMENS was probably a son or brother of Abraham. He was assessed in Penn Township for the first time in 1781. In that year he was taxed with 50 acres of land and personal property. No military record was found, but it is believed that he served during the Revolutionary period.

PETER CLEMENS was born in the year 1757, and died in what is now Chapman Township, Snyder County, Pa., on March 19, 1841. Before the Revolution Peter seems to have lived in Maiden Creek Township, Berks County, Pa. He was assessed in Penn Township for the first time in 1787, and was then designated as a single freeman. At one time he was a tenant on some of the Hehhodl holdings in Chapman or Union Township. Elizabeth, wife of Peter Clemens died in 1820. A Peter Clements served in both the 1st and 3rd Pennsylvania Regiments of the Continental Line. A Peter Clements aged 74, of Union (now Snyder) Co., was granted a federal pension July 21, 1819. This age and the one given above do not check, that there were two Peter Clements or Clemens. The Peter of Maiden Creek Township was listed as a single man in 1767, and the Peter who was 74 years old in 1819, must have been born in 1745, and in 1757, would have been 22 years old and probably single. There may have been two Peter Clemens' in Chapman Township, probably an uncle and nephew. Michael may have been a son of the older Peter. The Peter of Chapman Twp., in 1790, had one male over 16, and three females in his family.

ISAAC CLYMER, Shoemaker, was assessed in Penn Township for the first time in 1799. The tax list of Selinsgrove in 1802 carried his name, and in 1820 he was listed as a laborer in Selingrove. He came from Philadelphia or Bucks County. An Isaac Clymer served in the Bucks County Militia in May of 1780.

MICHAEL CLEMENS lived in what is now Chapman Township before 1800, and may have been a son of Edward Clemens who lived in that section as early as 1781. Michael's wife was Eva————. Three of their children were baptized at Grubb's church. The dates of their births were: Elizabeth, May 25, 1803; Susanna, January 13, 1805; and Christina, April 16, 1807. John and Juliana Clemens, and George and Susanna Clemens, at a later date, had children baptized at the same church.

LIEUTENANT JOHN COLEMAN probably came from Lancaster Co., and was assessed in Penn Township for the first time in 1780. In 1782, and for a number of years thereafter he lived in Mahanoy Township of Northumberland County. In 1792, he was granted a warrant of survey for 130 acres in Dauphin County, part of which touched Mahanoy Township. Before coming to Penn Township, he probably served as a private in Captain Isaac Adams' Company of the Lancaster County Associators in 1776. In May 1780, he was a Lieutenant in command of a party of rangers from Northumberland Co., and in 1782, he was a Lieutenant in the 4th Company, 1st Battalion of the Northumberland County Militia. A John Coleman, aged 84, was granted a pension on May 12, 1820. This man died in Indiana County, Pa., on December 5, 1830. A John Coleman was a private, 6th class, in Captain James Fisher's Company of the Cumberland County Militia in 1780. On Apr. 24, 1785, he was a Lieutenant in the 5th Company, 1st Battalion of the Northumberland County Militia.

DAVID COLLINS was assessed in Beaver Township for the first time in 1789. It is believed that he was a brother of Joseph, who lived in Beaver at the same time, and possibly too, of Moses, who lived in Penn Township from an earlier date. A David Collins served in the Washington County Militia.

JOSEPH COLLINS was listed as a single freeman in Beaver Township for the first time in 1789. It is thought that he was a brother of David. Joseph Collins was listed as one of the "18 months men" in the Northumberland County Militia during the Revolution.

MOSES COLLINS was assessed in Penn Township for the first time in 1780. He owned no real estate at the time. His name does not appear after 1782, and in 1788 with 150 acres of land and personal property in Barree Township, Huntingdon County, Pa. He served as a private in Captain John Moll's Company of the Northumberland County Militia. In 1790, he and wife were the only members of their family.

HENRY CONRAD lived in Northumberland County as early as 1776, and in Penn Township of same, around the year 1780. He was probably a brother of George Conrad. Both served in Captain John Clark's Company in 1776, and Henry was a private in Captain John Moll's Co., at a later date.

LIEUTENANT GEORGE CONRAD was probably a native of Lan-

Snyder County region and the most immediate governmental unit was the township. The 15 townships which now exist in Snyder County slowly emerged, some before the county was formally created and some after that date. These townships were convenient units through which most of the county's business was conducted.

Townships had a variety of duties assigned to them. Locally elected Overseers of the Poor levied a tax and used the monies to assist the dependent poor in their locality. The townships were also election districts and the difficulty settlers had journeying the several miles to the polling places was the reason generally given to justify the creation of new townships. After 1834, the townships were basic units in the public school system, and for a time each township could erect and supervise schools at its own discretion. Until 1929, townships were charged with building and maintaining roads and bridges. Locally elected citizens supervised this work. Taxes for these varied public functions were raised by township officials and based upon tax assessments levied by local assessors.

Penn Township was a minor civil division in both Cumberland County in 1758-1772, and Northumberland County, 1772-1813. It included most of the territory of contemporary Snyder County. In 1787 the western part of Penn Township became Beaver Dam Township. It became Beaver Township in 1800. A township which no longer exists, called Mahantango Township, was created in 1795 out of the southern portion of Penn Township. In 1805 Centre Township was carved from the northwestern section of Penn and northeastern section of Beaver Townships. After the War of 1812, the territory in Mahantango Township was carved into smaller units, with Perry Township derived from the western part of it in 1816, Washington Township taken from the northern part of it in 1818, and Chapman Township drawn from the remainder in 1820. By this latter date Mahantango Township had ceased to exist.

During the middle decades of the 19th century, the remainder of the contemporary townships were created to

ABSTRACTS OF
SNYDER COUNTY PROBATE and ORPHANS COURT RECORDS
(1772-1855)

By

Dr. Charles A. Fisher, F. I. A. G.

Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania

FOREWORD

To assist those using this book, the compiler gives the following helpful information.

EARLY SETTLEMENTS.

Squatters are known to have lived in what is now Snyder County, Pennsylvania, as early as 1754, and land grants were made early as 1755, for areas in what is now the southern part of the county. Officially, most of the county was now thrown open to settlers until 1769, and between that date and the beginning of the Revolution some four hundred families had moved to the frontier from the eastern and southern counties.

COUNTY FORMATIONS.

The southern part of Snyder County belonged to Cumberland County prior to 1772, the northern part was claimed by Berks County. In 1772, a new county, Northumberland, was formed, and the section now known as Snyder County, then included all of Penn and part of Buffalo Townships of Northumberland County. In 1789, the western part of Penn Township became Township, and in 1796, the southern part of same became Mahantango Township. This township existed until 1820, when it was broken up to form Perry, Chapman, and Washington Townships, and the name Mahantango disappeared from the township lists. The southern part of Buffalo Township then became part of Penn. New Townships were formed from time to time from parts of Penn, Beaver, Center, Perry etc. In 1813, what is now Snyder County became part of the newly formed county of Union. In 1855, the southern part of Union County became Snyder County.

THE COUNTY NAME.

The County was named for Hon Simon Snyder, the third governor of Pennsylvania, and the only man who ever served three terms in that office. During the Revolution Snyder became a resident of Selinsgrove, the oldest and largest town in the county, and he continued to live there until his death in 1819. He served in the State Legislature as a Representative, then Governor, and after that in the Senate. He is buried in Selinsgrove and the State marked his resting place with a large monument.

COUNTY SEATS.

When this area was part of Cumberland County, Carlisle was the county seat, When it became part of Northumberland County, the newly formed town of Sunbury, was the county seat. When it became part of Union County, New Berlin was the seat. The present seat of Union County is at Lewisburg, and of Snyder County, at Middleburg, Pa.

THE REVOLUTION

This was frontier during the Revolation and practically every male between 16 and 60, served in the rangers, militia, or Continental forces. This book is exceedingly valuable, because most of the early decedents mentioned in it served in the war.

The compiler has prepared numerous genealogies of the early families, also THE SNYDER COUNTY PIONEERS, A book giving biographical sketches of the heads of more than eight hundred families who lived in the section before 1800. The compiler will be glad to assist any who cannot find all they need in any of his works.

In the last few weeks, I have found information that indicates that John was a son of Peter Clemence, who was a son of Johann Nicholas Clemence (var. sp.). I don't have a lot of information about the family, but I am willing to share if you are interested, assuming that my family is the same as yours. Can you give me any pointers as to good research sources for Johann Nicholas? Most of my searching is done at Allen Co. Public Library, as we live about 45 miles from Ft. Wayne, IN. We did make one brief trip into Berks Co., PA, but we were looking for different families at that time.*

THE PALATINATE AND THE MIDDLE RHINE
The district of Zweibrücken lies mainly to the north and east of the City of Zweibrücken.

Immigrants from Zweibruecken

WHEN the Provincial Council of Pennsylvania issued in 1727 the order that in future all masters of vessels landing in Philadelphia and importing foreigners, should hand in lists of all the people they were importing, the order called for three things: (1) the names of all the arrivals, to be submitted by the captains, (2) their several occupations, (3) the places from which they had come. The first point of the order was carried out by the captains, but the other two points were completely ignored, to the great chagrin and disappointment of all historians and genealogists of later generations. Unless these pioneers brought with them passports or other documents, revealing their former places of residences, or unless they brought family Bibles which contained information about their origin, and unless these precious documents survived to the present time, it was thus far impossible to ascertain the birthplaces of the newcomers.

ordinary map. Still, the general district, under which they are named, locates them approximately.

There are 404 names in our list, although the number of persons covered is considerably larger. But, as the exact number of persons in each family is not always given, it is impossible to state the total number of persons included in the list. Of the 404 persons at least 30 are women. Of the rest, 374 men, 190 are found in the Pennsylvania lists of pioneers. That is, more than half can actually be traced as having come to Pennsylvania. The others may have died on the way, or some of them may have gone to other American colonies, notably to Carolina, for which many were headed in the beginning.

In order to make the list more useful, the exact name as found in the Pennsylvania lists and the time of arrival in Philadelphia are given in smaller print immediately below the names, while statements as to their places of settlement in Pennsylvania, are given in footnotes. Let us hope that other, similar lists may soon be found, which will identify more homes, from which these sturdy pioneers came forth to venture upon the long and difficult journey to the New World, where they made a noteworthy contribution to American civilization.

[1] Oberamt corresponds to Regierungsbezirk, a governmental district, in other parts of Germany.

As a result of this state of affairs, the hope has frequently been expressed, most recently by Professor Albert B. Faust of Cornell University[1], that lists of emigrants might be discovered in German and Swiss archives, which would throw light upon the original homes, from which the early German pioneers came to Pennsylvania. Such lists would be a fitting and most welcome supplement to the lists, preserved by the State of Pennsylvania, which at first promised this information, but did not actually contain it.

This hope was partially realized by Professor Faust himself, when he brought to light such lists in the archives of Switzerland. They were published by him in 1920 and 1925, in two volumes, entitled Lists of Swiss Emigrants in the Eighteenth Century to the American Colonies[2].

About the same time other important sources were made available, from which the homes of the emigrants could be ascertained. These were church records in Germany, in which many pastors had noted the departure of their parishioners to the New World. In 1928, Dr. Adolf Gerber published two pamphlets: Beiträge zur Auswanderung nach Amerika im 18. Jahrhundert aus altwürttembergischen Kirchenbüchern, i. e., "Contributions to the emigration to America in the 18th century from old Wurttemberg church records", and also "Neue Beiträge zur Auswanderung nach Amerika", i. e., "New Contributions to emigration to America", published in Stuttgart in 1928. These publications showed clearly that the German church records preserved the names of hundreds of persons, who emigrated to America in the 18th century and indicated at the same time the places from which the emigrants had started.

The list which we publish below is the first to be derived from the German archives. It was extracted from a document in the Bavarian State Archives at Speyer, Germany, and was communicated to the editors by Dr. Albert Pfeiffer, Chief Archivist at Speyer. It is taken from a document, marked "Zweibruecken III,2035." Unfortunately, no detailed description of this document is at present available, as it is reserved for the publication of the original German text. Meanwhile we offer a literal English rendering. in which the spelling of all proper names, names of persons as well as of places, has been carefully presented as given in the original transcript, furnished by Dr. Pfeiffer, to whom our heartiest thanks are due for allowing us to place this important document before American readers.

The list which we publish treats of emigrants who left the former duchy of Zweibruecken, during the years 1728-1749. It is not a complete list of all the emigrants who left Zweibruecken during this period, as is plain from the lists of pioneers in Pennsylvania, but we must be grateful for the information which it contains.

The Duchy of Zweibruecken had become a part of the Palatinate in 1685, when the Zweibruecken-Neuburg line of Dukes fell heir to the Electoral Palatinate upon the extinction of the Palatinate-Simmern line of princes, who had ruled the Palatinate from 1559 to 1685. The Zweibruecken-Neuburg line of Dukes were Catholics, and by their oppressive measures, which they adopted against their Protestant subjects, contributed their share to setting the emigration of their subjects to America in motion.

The territory of Zweibruecken contained what is now comprised in the "Bayerische Rheinpfaltz", i. e., the Bavarian Rhenish Palatinate, a district lying on the left bank of the Rhine, also the principality of Birkenfeld, to which the Nohefelden belonged, also those parts of Hesse, that lie on the left bank of the Rhine and parts of the Rhineprovince, which now belong to Prussia. The distribution of the various districts to Bavaria, Hesse, Oldenburg and Prussia, goes back to the Congress of Vienna in 1815.

The list which we present covers four Oberämter, or governmental districts. That of Bargzabern, in the south-east, Zweibruecken in the south-west, Meisenheim and Lichtenberg in the north-west. The accompanying map will show the location of the chief places named. Many of the places, however, that appear in the list, are so insignificant, that they are not located on an

[2] —Vol. I, contains lists from Zurich, 1734-1744; Vol. II, lists from Bern, 1706-1795; and lists from Basel, 1734-1794. Compiled and edited by A. B. Faust and Gaius M. Brumbaugh, National Genealogical Society, Washington, 1920 and 1925.

As a result of this state of affairs, the hope has frequently been expressed, most recently by Professor Albert B. Faust of Cornell University, that new and important lists might be discovered in German and Swiss archives, which would throw light upon the original homes, from which the early German pioneers came to Pennsylvania. Such data would be a fitting and most welcome supplement to the lists, preserved by the State of Pennsylvania, which at best presupposed this information but did not actually contain it.

This hope was partially realized by Professor Faust himself, when he brought to light such lists in the archives of Switzerland. They were published by him in 1920 and 1925 in two volumes, entitled Lists of Swiss Emigrants in the Eighteenth Century to the American Colonies.

About the same time other important sources were made available, from which the homes of the emigrants could be ascertained. The list which we publish below is the first to be derived from the German archives. It was extracted from a document in the Bavarian State Archives at Speyer, Germany, and was communicated to the editors by Dr. Albert Pfeiffer, Chief Archivist at Speyer. It is taken from a document, entitled "[illegible]". Unfortunately, the detailed description of this document is at present impossible, and is reserved for the publication of the original German text. Wherever we offer a literal English rendering, we retain the spelling of all proper names, names of persons as well as of places, as they are occasionally presented as given in the original document, furnished by Dr. Pfeiffer, to whom our sincere thanks are due for allowing us to place this important document before American readers.

The list which we publish contains the names of emigrants who left the former Duchy of Zweibrücken, during the years 1728-1749. It is not a complete list of all the emigrants who left Zweibrücken during this period, as is clear from the lists of pioneers in Pennsylvania, but we must be grateful for the information which it contains.

The Duchy of Zweibrücken had become a part of the Palatinate in 1410, when the Zweibrücken-[illegible] line of [illegible] fell heir to the Electoral Palatinate upon the extinction of the Palatinate-Simmern line of princes, who had ruled the Palatinate from 1559 to 1685. The Zweibrücken-Neuburg line of Electors were Catholics, and by their oppressive measures, which they exercised against their Protestant subjects, contributed their share to effect the emigration of their subjects to America in masses.

The territory of Zweibrücken comprised what is now covered in the "Bayerische Rheinpfalz", i.e., the Bavarian Rhenish Palatinate, a district lying on the left bank of the Rhine, also the principality of Birkenfeld, to which the Nahe region belonged, also those parts of Hesse, that lie on the left bank of the Rhine, and parts of the Rhine province, which now belong to Prussia. [a] —Jacob Hamman is probably a member of the Hamman family which settled in Lehigh county and were there members of the Jordan Lutheran congregation. A Balthasar Hamman came to Pennsylvania on the Snow Molly, landing at Philadelphia, October 26, 1741. He was then 19 years of age. In 1752 a son, Jacob Hamman, was born to him. It is, therefore, possible that this Jacob Hamman, who arrived in 1749, was the father or uncle of Balthasar Hamman and that his son Jacob was named after his grandfather, or his uncle.

IRA T. CLEMENT, late of Sunbury, was a leading citizen of that community to the close of his long life, which covered a period of over eighty-five years. In his day there was scarcely a more conspicuous figure in the development of the Borough and the surrounding territory, and his descendents were classed among the most valuable citizens there. His interest as merchant and manufacturer not only brought to him means and influence, but were also the means of enhancing the industrial facilities of the entire region. A man of strong character, of progressive disposition, of foresight, he combined the possession of all these traits with sufficient enterprise to launch and carry through the various undertakings he felt could be successfully prosecuted in this section. His sons in time engaged in business with him and in the activities of various members of the family the position of the Clements among the most prominent residents of this section has been well sustained.

JOSEPH CLEMENT, the father of Ira T. Clement, died on Staten Island, New York. He served as a soldier in the revolution War in 1805. In Sussex County, New Jersey, he married Hannah Hazen, daiughter of Samuel and Ezra Hazen, and to them were born three children: Augustus married Caroline Lyons, and died in Sunbury;Sarah, was twice married , first to a Mr. Hazen, and later to Dr. Woodbridge, and raised a large family, she died at Buchanan, Michigan; Ira T. is mentioned below. After the death of Joseph Clement, his widow married Solomon Smith of Amherst, Massachusetts, and they moved to Ohio, and settled and raised their family. Mr. Smith died there, and Mrs. Smith came back to Sunbury, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania and spent several years there before her death which occurred on June 25, 1868 in her eighty-fourth year. She was born April 12, 1785 in Woodbury, New Jersey.

IRA T. CLEMENT was born January 11, 1813 in New Jersey. He was a young child when he came with his mother to Northumberland County, Pa., and in fact was only five years old when his mother indentured him to Jacob Hoover, with whom he lived on which later became the Odd Fellow's Orphanage. He learned the carpenter's trade, which he followed for a few years, but he soon embarked in the mercantile business on his own account in Sunbury, Pa., continuing in that line over thirty years.However, there were too many opportunities for him to devote himself and his energies to one enterprise. He had a small tract of land and a sawmill near Artter's Station a few miles east of Sunbury, and which he worked in the woods during the day getting out logs which he cut into lumber at night.

He had a small tract of land and a sawmill near Kreamer's Station a few miles west of Sunbury, and which he worked in the woods during the day getting out logs which he cut into lumber at night.

In 1847 he came to Sunbury, where he built the first sawmill in that place at what was later the site of his table factory on Front Street, having bought the land shortly after his arrival there from Ebenezer Greenbough. Besides conducting this place he engaged in the mercantile business, his first store in Sunbury being located on Market Street, near Third Street, he ran the sawmill until 1867, when he sold it to William Reagan, and it was subsequently owned successively by the Sunbury Lumber Company and the firm of Friling, Bowen and Engle. After they failed in 1877, it was conducted in the best interest of their creditors until 1883, when Mr. Clement repurchased it.

Meantime, about 1868, he had built the first planing mill in Sunbury, originally a two-story frame building 60 x 80 feet in dimensions, but later expanded considerably to meet the demands of expanding business. In 1875 the upper story of the structure was equipped for the manufacture of Coffins, but the business growed so rapidly that in 1887 a two story 40' x 140' was erected for its sole accomodation. In 1880 Mr. Clement had begun the manufacture of extension tables at the planing mill, and in 1887 his old mill which was purchased in 1883 was adapted for this special branch of manufacturing. For a number of years his combined industries occupied an extensive site extending from Front Street to Third Street, north of Race, the sawmill, planing mill, table factory and coffin factory afforded employment for 125 men with an annual product valued to $150,000. The influence of such an establishment on the general prosperity may only be conjectured. Further, he established the Sunbury Steam Ferry and Tow Boat Company, of which he was President, and which for many years kept a line of steamboats plying the Susquehanna River between Sunbury and Shamokin Dam, and other points. He also invested heavily in real estate, buying the Kutz Farm in upper Augusta Township and the Oberdorf Farm in east Sunbury, on which he made vast improvements, and at the time of his death he owned over one-hundred houses in Sunbury, of which Borough he was the heaviest taxpayer. He engaged in contracting to some extent, in 1876-77 building the Northumberland County Prison, and other buildings including the City Hall and the Moore and Dissinger Building Block on Market Street, were all his construction. He also gave employment to a considerable number of men.

H relinguished little control of his affairs in his old age, being active to the end of his days. Despite his poor health in later years, he never lost interest in the management of his numerous business concerns, giving them his direct personal supervision as he had been in the habit of doing.

He continued to be a power in local industrial and commercial matters until his death. He was a born leader and was foremost in many movements which have made a permanent impression upon the development and welfare of Sunbury.

He continued to be a power in local industrial and commercial matters until his death. He was a born leader and was foremost in many movements which have made a permanent impression upon the development and welfare of Sunbury.

He was a pioneer casket manufacturer in Pennsylvania and as such started a line of industry in Sunbury which continues to be one of its business factors. Though he never took any interest in public affairs he had strong convictions on political questions, and originally a whig, changed his allegiance to the democratic party. He and his family were members of the Reformed Church.

In 1834, his twenty-second year, he married one Sarah Martz, of Shamokin Township, daughter of David and Magdalena (Shissler) Martz and twelve children were born to them. Namely, Alelia, who died unmarried; Henry, Catherine A. who died young; David; a child that died in infancy; Mary Jane who married John W. Bucher; Louisa, widow of Henry E. Moore; Sarah Frances, who married David C. Dissinger who died before she did;Laura L. who married dietrich James; Maria W. who died unmarried; and zgace and Emma. who died young. Only two of this family, Henry and and Mrs. Moore, survived the father, who died October 28, 1898, attaining the age of eighty-five years, nine months, seventeen days. He was buried at Sunbury.

HENRY CLEMENT, the only son of Ira T. Clement who survived him was born in what was then Upper Augusta Township on September 4, 1838. When a mere boy, he commenced clerking in his fathers store, and he was always associated with him in his lumber and manufacturing interest for many years before his fathers death being with him in the management of the entire business. He stepped into a busy career, but proved himself adapted to its demands, as his capable management of his various interests shows that he not only inherited the business but the ability to look after it to advantage. He was one of the pioneers in the West Branch lumber industry. Though thoroughly progressive he was conservative and had a reputation for sound judgement which made his opinion on business matters highly valued. Though his time was taken up with private affairs, he found time to serve the borough as a councilman in political faith as a republican. Fraternally, he was an Odd Fellow and a Mason.

On March 23, 1860, he married Catherine Geist and she died in 1899, leaving two children; Jennie M. who married William H Faries. Acourt Stenographer; and Ira T. of Sunbury married Elizabeth B Fisher and had one sn, Henry Clement, Jr.

THE FIRST REFORMED CHURCH,

LANCASTER, PA.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

Among the earliest of the German Reformed congregations organized in Pennsylvania was the one in Lancaster. Between 1709 and 1735 the immigration of Germans, Swiss and French into the county of Lancaster was very large. They were mainly exiles and refugees, fleeing from the intolerant religious persecutions that followed the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes in 1685, and adherents of the Reformed or Huguenotic faith. In 1736 these people felt themselves strong enough to organize a congregation and begin the erection of a church. Existing church records show they had enjoyed the ministerial services of various itinerant clergymen as early as 1731, but it was not until 1736 that a permanent organization under a regular pastor was effected.

The following is from the earliest records of the congregation: "Church Protocol of the newly built Re-

INTRODUCTION

The following persons were taxed:
(1) Householders or landholders including land owners and tenants - no distinction was made between the two.
(2) Inmates, meaning residents in the household of another (not a renter) who worked for the landowner.
(3) Freemen, who were single men over the age of 21. They appear at the end of the listing of the township and were always assessed the same amount.
(4) Non-residents, unseated landowners (unoccupied land).

This listing was taken exactly as written in the published Third Series of Pennsylvania Archives. The spelling of names has not been changed.

INTRODUCTION

PUBLISHED ARCHIVES GENERAL INFORMATION:

THE INFORMATION IN THIS BOOK IS EXTRACTED FROM THE VOLUMES OF THE PENNSYLVANIA ARCHIVES. DURING THE MID-1850'S MATERIAL FROM ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS OF THE COLONIAL PERIOD THROUGH THE LATE 1830'S WAS PRESERVED IN AN ORGANIZED, MORE ACCESSIBLE COLLECTION. MOST OF THE ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS ARE NO LONGER AVAILABLE AND IT IS PROBABLE THAT THEY WERE LOST OR DESTROYED. THE EXISTENCE OF MANY OF THE EARLY RESIDENTS OF PENNSYLVANIA IS RECORDED IN THE VOLUMES CALLED THE PUBLISHED PENNSYLVANIA ARCHIVES, CREATED FROM THOSE ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS. A VALUABLE REFERENCE FOR RESEARCHERS, THE PUBLISHED ARCHIVES CONSIST OF 9 SERIES OF VOLUMES. THE FIRST VOLUMES ARE REFERRED TO AS THE COLONIAL RECORDS, WITH THE REMAINDER DESIGNATED AS SERIES 2 THROUGH 9.

THIRD SERIES:

THE THIRD SERIES OF THE PUBLISHED ARCHIVES CONTAINS VOLUMES FOR EACH COUNTY IN EXISTENCE DURING THE TIME PERIOD. EACH COUNTY VOLUME IS SEPARATED INTO YEARS, THEN INTO TOWNSHIPS UNDER EACH YEAR. THROUGH THE YEARS THE NUMBER OF TOWNSHIPS INCREASES AS LARGER TOWNSHIPS ARE DIVIDED AND NEW TOWNSHIPS ARE FORMED. THE NAMES OF THE PERSONS ASSOCIATED WITH A COUNTY, TAX INFORMATION, NUMBER OF ACRES, NUMBER OF ANIMALS, AND NUMBER OF PERSONS IN THE HOUSEHOLD ARE INCLUDED IN SOME OF THE ENTRIES. THERE ARE LISTINGS OF SINGLE PERSONS, NONRESIDENTS, AND LANDOWNERS. SOMETIMES THE OCCUPATION IS GIVEN, AN ESTATE ADMINISTRATOR IS MENTIONED, OR A DECEASED PERSON IS NOTED.

BERKS COUNTY PORTION:

VOLUME 18, THE BERKS COUNTY PORTION OF THE PUBLISHED PENNSYLVANIA ARCHIVES, IS AN IMPORTANT TOOL FOR THE BERKS COUNTY RESEARCHER. IT ENCOMPASSES MUCH OF THE INFORMATION ABOVE AND COVERS THE PERIOD FROM 1767 TO 1785. NOT ALL THE YEARS ARE REPRESENTED. THE MOST IMPORTANT YEARS ARE 1767 (THE EARLIEST AVAILABLE) AND 1784 (THE MOST INFORMATION INCLUDED). ALTHOUGH BERKS COUNTY WAS ESTABLISHED IN 1752, THE PUBLISHED ARCHIVES DOES NOT INCLUDE THAT DATA. THE NEXT READILY AVAILABLE SOURCE FOR BERKS COUNTY AFTER 1785 IS THE FEDERAL CENSUS OF 1790.

HEADING CODES:

THE FIRST COLUMN IS THE NAME OF THE TAX PAYER/LAND OWNER. THAT NAME COULD REPRESENT A PRINCIPLE RESIDENT, NON-RESIDENT, OR SINGLE PERSON. IF THE OCCUPATION OF THE PERSON IS LISTED IN THE ORIGINAL, IT WILL APPEAR BEHIND THE NAME. THE SECOND COLUMN IS THE PAGE NUMBER OF THE VOLUME IN THE PUBLISHED PENNSYLVANIA ARCHIVES. THE THIRD COLUMN IS THE TOWNSHIP WHERE THE PERSON WAS RECORDED. THE REMAINING 6 COLUMNS ARE (IN ORDER) A = NUMBER OF ACRES; H = NUMBER OF HORSES; C = HEAD OF CATTLE; S= NUMBER OF SHEEP; T = TAX; #-P = NUMBER OF PEOPLE IN THE HOUSEHOLD. BE CAUTIOUS ABOUT THE NUMBER OF PERSONS IN THE HOUSEHOLD; THEY MAY NOT ALL BE IMMEDIATE FAMILY. THERE COULD BE MOTHERS-IN-LAW, COUSINS, UNCLES, ORPHANS, DOMESTICS, FARM-HANDS OR OTHER WORKERS INCLUDED IN THE FIGURES.

NOTE:

THIS BOOK IS PUBLISHED IN AN EFFORT TO INCREASE THE POSSIBILITY THAT YOU WILL FIND THE PERSON YOU ARE SEEKING. IT WOULD BE DIFFICULT AND TIME-CONSUMING TO GO THROUGH THIS INFORMATION YEAR BY YEAR AND TOWNSHIP BY TOWNSHIP IN AN ATTEMPT TO CHECK WHETHER OR NOT YOUR PERSON WAS ASSOCIATED WITH THIS COUNTY. MOST OF US HAVE ENOUGH GENEALOGY WORK TO LAST THREE LIFETIMES AND ARE WONDERING HOW WE CAN EITHER ACQUIRE EXTRA TIME OR WORK FASTER. MANY OF US ARE DEDICATED TO FINDING THE COUNTY IN WHICH OUR ANCESTOR LIVED IN ORDER TO CHECK EVERY AVAILABLE SOURCE FOR NEW INFORMATION. SOME LUCKY "OUT OF STATERS" FIND CENSUS RECORDS WITH THE WORDS "BORN IN PENNSYLVANIA"; BUT, FIND NO CLUES ABOUT WHERE IN PENNSYLVANIA. KNOWING THE COUNTY MAKES WORK EASIER. INDICES WILL BE VALUABLE IN DETERMINING THE COUNTY IF THEY ARE USED WITH CAUTION.

INFORMATION COPIED FROM ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS AND RECOPIED FOR LISTS AND COPIED AGAIN FOR ORGANIZATIONAL PURPOSES WILL CONTAIN MISTAKES. IMAGINE A MAN WHO COULD NOT READ OR WRITE--HOW COULD HE KNOW THAT THE CLERK MISSPELLED HIS NAME? THINK OF THE CLERK, WAS HE CAREFUL, WAS HE WELL-EDUCATED, OR WAS HE HUNGRY AND LATE FOR SUPPER? THERE IS ALWAYS A HUMAN FACTOR TO CONSIDER. I REALIZE THERE MUST HAVE BEEN CLERICAL ERRORS, FOLLOWED BY TRANSCRIPTION ERRORS, FOLLOWED BY TYPOGRAPHICAL ERRORS IN THE PRINTED VOLUMES. I HOPE I HAVE NOT COMPOUNDED THE ERRORS. SOME ENTRIES ARE ERROR-FREE; WHICH ONES WE DO NOT KNOW BECAUSE WE WERE NOT THERE. THIS MATERIAL IS OFFER ONLY AS A BOOK OF CLUES. YOU ARE ENCOURAGED TO USE THE MATERIAL AS AN INDICATOR OF THE DIRECTION TO TAKE. FOLLOW THE CLUES AND MAKE THE EDUCATED GUESSES WHICH ARE A PART OF THE EXCITEMENT AND CHALLENGE OF GENEALOGY!

GENEALOGY IS FASCINATING AND COMPELLING. IT EXPANDS TO FILL THE ALLOTTED TIME AND SPACE. IT HAS ALL THE POSSIBILITIES YOU CAN PURSUE; TAKES ALL THE TIME YOU WISH TO DEVOTE TO IT; AND, CAN BE AS CHALLENGING, FRUSTRATING, AND DELIGHTFUL AS YOU LET IT. GENEALOGY WILL NAG AT YOU, BUT IT WILL ALSO WAIT UNTIL YOU ARE READY. MOST OF THE ANCESTORS WILL STAY WHERE THEY ARE; ALL YOU HAVE TO DO IS DISCOVER WHERE THAT IS. COMPUTERS, INDICES, NEW BOOKS AND MANY PEOPLE INTERESTED IN THE FIELD HAVE MADE MORE RECORDS AVAILABLE THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY. GENEALOGY REMAINS AS CHALLENGING, INTERESTING, AND EDUCATIONAL AS IT WAS DECADES AGO; BUT, WE HAVE MORE TOOLS. THIS BOOK IS ONE OF THOSE TOOLS AND I HOPE IT HELPS YOU TO FIND YOUR BERKS COUNTY PERSON.

CLEMMENS FAMILY RECORDS

Copied from the "Biography of Nancy Clemmens Hewit," which was compiled by her husband, Isaac W. Hewit.

Nicholas Clemmens, grandfather of Nancy Clemmens Hewit, and his wife were born in Germany but emigrated to America in 1775. When they landed in America they were both sold into two years servitude to pay their passage.

When the Revolutionary War began, Nicholas Clemmens was offered his liberty if he would serve six months for his master as a soldier. He accepted the offer and after his time expired, served six months more to free his wife, who had been sold to another party. Having obtained his freedom, he enlisted to the end of the war and thus proved his loyalty to his adopted country. He became acquainted with General Washington and was quite a favorite with him as is proved both by family report and by quotations from the biography of Washington in which the noted General is quoted in these words, "Cheer up, friend Nicholas. Be of good cheer. God will be with us. We will see better times soon." He was also a cook for Washington for several years. At the close of the Revolution, Washington gave him a fine cane which is still in the Clemmens family and is highly prized.

During the War, grandmother Clemmens was engaged in the bakery business in Philadelphia. After the War Clemmens and his wife located in Washington Co., PA., where he followed his trade as a miller for about thirty years. They then sold their property and moved to Boardman township in Trumbull County, Ohio. They had four sons and two daughters:

Gilkison, Ebenezer McGowen, Polly McGowen.

John McGregor, Benjamin S. Bailey and Wm. Patterson were elected and installed ruling elders.

Rev. Cyrus Riggs (Prof. of College) officiated as stated supply for two years, then Rev. Lafferty Grier served one-third of his time six years, when Rev. Marquis was installed in 1860, and left in 1865. Revs. Wm. Wycoff and J. B. Dickey supplied the congregation for a short time. Rev. Israel Price officiated as stated supply for two years and was installed as pastor in October, 1869, and still ministers to the spiritual wants of the congregation. There are at present seventy-five members.

Ruling Elders—Wm. Waggoner, James G. Allen, Isaac Wycoff and Calvin B. Culp.

The first clerk of session was Wm. Patterson. The church building is located at the southern terminus of Sugar street, a brick structure.

EAST SPRINGFIELD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

On the 27th day of March, 1847, a number of the citizens of East Springfield and vicinity favorable to Presbyterianism, met to consider the propriety of erecting a Presbyterian house of worship in said village, and appointed a committee to solicit subscription for that purpose. On the 21st of May this committee reported $825 raised, and Messrs. Stewart McClave, William Palmer, George Hammond, John Calhoun, Joseph Clemens and Caleb Waggoner were chosen trustees and directed to proceed with the erection of a church building. The house being completed was, on the 25th of Aug., 1848, dedicated by Rev. Dr. Beatty, preaching from the 93d Psalms, "Holiness becometh Thy house." On the 1st day of June, 1850, the church was formally organized by Revs. C. C. Riggs and John Knox—the following ledges, Johnsons and Minors, formed the first class.

About the year 1826, the citizens of East Springfield joined together and erected a meeting house in the south part of the village, and as the Episcopalians were at that time in the majority it was known as the "Episcopalian church." In this building the Methodists worshiped until 1846, when they erected a building for themselves.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH OF SALEM.

This society was organized in 1838, by Rev. Patrick McCue with the following members: Eli McKinney, Margaret Miller, Martha Thompson, John Lawson, John Lacy, Elizabeth Ferrell, John Ferrell and Sarah A. Myers. Eli McKinney was the class leader.

The meetings were held for a long time in the school house. The first church was built of logs in 1844, and in 1848, a frame building was put up. In 1879, the house was rebuilt, 28x40, and dedicated July 13, 1879. Present membership, fifty. Class leader, D. M. Gruber, a descendant of the famous pioneer Methodist preacher of that name. Preacher in charge, Rev. S. W. McClure.

FRIENDS' SOCIETY.

This society was composed of William Farquhar and wife, Elizabeth; Joseph Hobson and wife, Ann; Joseph Talbott and wife, Mary; Benjamin Talbott and wife, Susannah; Jacob Ong and wife, Mary. The first meetings were held at the house of William Farquhar until 1815, when a log meeting house was built. In 1820, a brick structure 30x40 was erected and is still

Disaster On The Railroad

The Centennial year of 1876 drew to a close with much excitement nationwide over the contested Hayes-Tilden election which resulted in Rutherford B. Hayes of Fremont, Ohio, being named as President of the United States. A tragedy in the closing days of the year also crowded the headlines for several weeks in Ohio and nationwide.

On the evening of Dec. 29, 1876, a crowded Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad passenger train was traveling through Ashtabula, Ohio. This rail line was a predecessor of the New York Central which ran through Norwalk and northern Huron County for several years but which was recently abandoned. This train at Ashtabula consisted of 11 cars pulled by two engines. As the train crossed the Ashtabula River the engineer of the lead engine heard a sharp crack. He turned in time to see the second engine and the eleven cars plunge into the river gorge, followed by the wreckage of the bridge.

Mass confusion and death followed as the train cars piled on top of each other and burst into flames. Ashtabula residents rushed to help but neglected to summon the village fire department. When the fire department did arrive, no one took charge, and the engine equipment stood idle while the wreckage burned.

Men worked waist deep in the icy river water to rescue survivors and remove bodies from the twisted wreckage. Eventually 92 persons were listed as killed, and 59 were injured, with only eight persons escaping unhurt. This was the greatest railway disaster of the 19th century with nearly every state in the Union represented on the casualty list. Two area residents were killed—William Clemens of Bellevue and Mrs. E. Cook of Wellington.

President-elect Rutherford Hayes also mourned the train wreck at Spiegel Grove in Fremont when he learned that his cousin Mary Birchard of Fayetteville, Vt., was killed in the wreck. Miss Birchard was an heir of their Uncle Sardis Birchard, and was enroute to Fremont to claim a $20,000 legacy.

At a hearing on the train wreck it was determined that railroad officials were at fault in the bridge collapse even though they maintained it was an Act of God. Charles Collins was chief engineer of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, and wept openly when he viewed the wreckage. On Jan. 17, 1877, Mr. Collins committed suicide at his home in Cleveland. Mr. Collins may have been the person for whom the LS & MS station of Collins in Huron County was named. It is said the station was named about 1855 for an official of the railroad who promised that eight trains per day would go through the county if the station were called Collins. This promise was carried out, and eight trains per day were common until well after 1900. Charles Collins was a brother-in-law of J.A. Wilkinson of Norwalk, who was a jeweler here in the room at No. 7 East Main Street.

Probably the best-known casualties of the Ashtabula Bridge disaster were Mr. and Mrs. Phillip P. Bliss of Chicago, who were hymn writers. Most Sunday School students and Protestant church-goers have sung "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning", "Almost Persuaded", and "Hold The Fort". Those and other hymns were composed by Mr. Bliss. After the wreck, Evangelist Dwight Moody suggested that all Sunday Schools in the United States take up a collection in memory of the writer.

"Hold The Fort" was based on an incident of the Civil War which took place during Sherman's March to the Sea. Sherman had fortified a point called Allatoona Pass near the Tennessee-Georgia border in the Summer of 1864, with instructions to hold it "to the last man and the last gun". The Confederates managed to come between the Pass and Sherman's troops at Atlanta.

General Corse had part of Sherman's army at Rome, Ga., and received a message by flag signals from Allatoona for help. He signalled back "Hold The Fort! I'm coming! The troops arrived in time to hold the Pass and save the supplies kept there. The message from General Corse was written in the tent of Capt. John Q. Adams of the Signal Corps.

Capt. Adams was married to Mary Wildman of Clarksfield, and they made their home at 238 Benedict Avenue in their declining years, died in Norwalk and are buried in Woodlawn Cemetery.

a part of lot number seven in the second section of Lyme, erecting his house a short distance west of Lemuel Moses', where he resided until his death in 1860.

In 1832 he was married, the second time, to Jerusha Jackson, of Bucyrus, Crawford county. She still survives, enjoying a hale and cheerful old age, being one of those active spirits who prefer to "wear out rather than rust out." She bore to Mr. Sheffield seven children,—Iris, John, Cornelia, William, Albert, Edwin and Jennie, of whom the second and the last two mentioned reside in Bellevue. Jennie is the wife of James Miller, attorney-at-law, and Edwin is the cashier of the Bellevue Bank, the duties of which office he has discharged with great credit to himself and with marked success for the bank, since the date of its organization; John is in the real estate business.

That part of the fourth section known as the Saltonstall tract, comprised four lots of ninety acres each, numbers seventeen, eighteen, nineteen and twenty. The first lot at the west end of the tract lying on the county line, was first settled by Eli Smith; the next by Oliver C. Polly and John Clemmons; the third by George Gamble, and the fourth by L. Young.

Gurdon Williams came into the township, and purchased as early as 1817, nearly a thousand acres across the south side of the fourth section. He subsequently brought in a stock of goods, and opened a store in a log house near the south line, which he continued for several years, when he removed to Syracuse, New York. This Williams' tract was sold out in parcels to German settlers, among whom were Jacob and Adam Weikle, Peter Arth, Christian Lepley, Charles, Henry and Philip Bollenbacher, Henry Studt and Peter Heimbach.

Jacob Goodrich and family, in 1817, settled on lot number twenty-two in the third section, on the place now owned by Spencer W. Boise, where he lived for many years, and then moved to the west. John Seelye, a young man, came in with Mr. Goodrich, remained a few years, and then went to some State farther west.

John F. Adams and family came in the spring of 1818, from Pultney, Vermont, and had as fellow-travelers from Granville, New York, Asaph Cooke and family, who settled at what has since been called Cooke's corners. Mr. Adams located on the northeast corner lot of this township. His wife, Betsey, died in the fall of 1819, and he subsequently married Chloe Cooke, daughter of Asaph Cooke. She died in April, 1847, and Mr. Adams married for his third wife, Caroline Selover, in 1849. In 1866, he removed to Milan where he died.

In the fall of 1818, James Hamilton, from Granville, New York, settled on the south line of Groton township near Mr. Adams'. His wife died in the fall of 1819, and a few years afterward he removed to Monroeville. He was the father of seven children—six sons and a daughter. They were an intelligent this life July 24, 1883, aged thirteen years, eight months and seven days; Jacob Elmer, a bright and promising lad, still at home; and Samuel Warren, who died July 9, 1883, aged two years, six months and five days. Mr. and Mrs. Bunn are members of the Reformed Church. He is a citizen of public spirit, and has rendered valuable service in advancing the educational interests of the community.

JOHN BURMAN, farmer, P. O. Bellevue, Huron County, was born December 6, 1818, in New Lancaster, Fairfield Co., Ohio. His father, John Burman, of Pennsylvania, came with his parents to Ohio in a very early day; and during the war of 1812 worked at his trade as gunsmith for the Government at Franklinton, where Columbus now stands; he married Miss Catharine Fisher, of Fairfield County, also a native of Pennsylvania, and settled seven miles north of Findlay, Hancock County, in 1830, and there remained until their death. They were upright pioneers and left an honored name to posterity. Our subject is the third in their family of eleven children. He came to Flat Rock, this county, in 1843. He worked several years at his trade as carpenter, after which he established a steam saw-mill, and operated it for seven years on the place which he now occupies. He then settled down to farming, which has been his occupation ever since. He has acquired a fine farm of 110 acres of well-improved land. He has an excellent water supply on his place, which has never been known to fail. April 21, 1844, Mr. Burman married Miss Catharine Korner, daughter of Jacob Korner, and to this union were born following named children: Mrs. Melissa Buljer, Alonzo, Mrs. Fidelia Smith, Mrs. Adeline Reeves and Mrs. Olive Swindler. Mr. Burman is a life-long Democrat. He leads a life of useful industry, and is highly respected by the entire community.

WILLIAM CLEMENS (deceased) was born July 12, 1824, in Union County, Pennsylvania. His father, John Clemens, a soldier of the war of 1812, settled in Huron County, Ohio, near the Seneca County line, in 1831, and he and his wife finally moved to Adams Township, this county, where they remained until their death. William Clemens married, November 11, 1849, Miss Mary Ann Alexander, born March 31, 1829, in Coshocton County, Ohio. They lived in Huron County until 1862 when they settled on the present homestead in Thompson Township, this county. Here they acquired a fine farm of 340 acres of well-improved land in this and Huron Counties. This they obtained entirely by their own efforts. Their children are Lyman, Mrs. Clara Lofland, Mrs. Lucinda Thompson, Mrs. Rose A. Haywood, Charles, Mrs. Julia Higgins and Alice. Mr. Clemens was killed in the railroad disaster at Ashtabula, Ohio, December 29, 1876. He was an extensive dealer in stock during the last few years of his life. He took an active interest in the educational affairs of the country, and held the position of school director in both counties for many years. Seneca County lost one of its most useful and influential citizens when he came to his untimely death. His widow now resides on the family homestead. She is a consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

HON. JACOB DECKER, P. O. Bellevue, Huron County, was born January 15, 1809, in Union County, Penn. RECORD OF GRUBB'S (BOTSCHAFT) LUTHERAN CHURCH
(1792-1875)

This church is located in Chapman Township, Snyder County, Pa., which is in the southern part of the county. Settlers began to come into this section as early as 1768, and by the time of the Revolution had a considerable population. Tradition has it that regular church services were held in the section before 1774, and that thecongregation was organized around that time, but unfortunately the records of thatearly period were lost. This record was translated from the German in 1935. At first this congregation consisted solely of Lutherans, then a Union congregation of Lutherans and Reformeds worshiped for many years, but the Reformed members removedfrom the section or joined the Lutheran congregation. Dr. Fisher arranged the recordalphabetically, and added the items in ( ). The name of a man in ( ) following that of a woman, indicates her father's name.

In the last few weeks, I have found information that indicates that John was a son of Peter Clemence, who was a son of Johann Nicholas Clemence (var. sp.). I don't have a lot of information about the family, but I am willing to share if you are interested, assuming that my family is the same as yours. Can you give me any pointers as to good research sources for Johann Nicholas? Most of my searching is done at Allen Co. Public Library, as we live about 45 miles from Ft. Wayne, IN. We did make one brief trip into Berks Co., PA, but we were looking for different families at that time.*

>From the book which might be of interest to you,

1790 cenus the Clemens family in PA are located in no less than eight counties. John, Nicholas and Alexander in Washington Co., Peter, Nicholas and Abraham in Berks Co., George in Chester, David in Delaware Co., John in Lancaster Co., and Jacob Clemens' in Buck, Berks , Montgomery ane Philadelphia counties. I think the book needs to be read in its correct text. Something I have never done. It appears the major part of the book researches Mark Twain (he was a CLemens) line.

I will let you know what I can find.

Well, If you are talking Peter Clementz with wife Maria Heckman, I think that is pretty much set in stone. They lived in Berks Co, PA. Peter died in Pine Grove, Schuylkill county and Maria his wife in Berks Co., PA.

The book I got the information from is not 100% accurate. And I can see why you think there could be errors. The little information I have for George, Johannes=John, and Michael appear to have different wives than those listed. My husband descends from Peter's son Michael with wife Magdalena Zerbe. Michael only had one wife, so it appears we are talking a totally different family.

The book also covers a family of Clementz that were not our line. It also has a tendancy to get confusion in some spots if I remember correctly. Too many Peters I think. Let me dig it out, and see what I can turn up for you.
